Washington (CPA) — Governor
Roosevelt's proposal that the Eighteenth amendment be revised is considered the most far-reaching of any those coming from the camp thereto known as advocating "repeal."

Until now the prohibition controversy has been centered on those to "favor" repeal, but did not offer a specific alternative of legislation or a substitute for the eighteenth amendment.

Mr. Roosevelt favors repeal only to the extent of substituting effective prohibition in certain states and other states. The Associated Press that former President Irvigen is under arrest on board the cruiser Belgrano and has not been permitted to leave Argentina jurisdiction.

The interior minister, interviewed
by the correspondent, denied reports
that Irvigen would be transferred to a steamer from the Belgrano or landed at Montevideo.

YOUTHS STEAL AUTO FROM MOTORIST, BUT POLICE CATCH THEM

Milwaukee (CP) — When Joseph
Schlund, 17 and Earl Fischer, 18, saw F. V. Cloutier enter his car in front of his home last night
they slipped into the rear seat, pointed a gun at him and told him to drive. He stopped the car in front of the West Allis police station, ran into headquarters and turned to see the boys driving away with his car. The alarm was spread to Milwaukee officers, who saw the car pass a downtown corner, halted a following one, overtook the pair and charged them today with assault and robbery while armed.

Fail To Sight Vessel With Exiled Ruler

Buenos Aires, Argentina (CP) — Sanchez Sorondo, minister of the interior, today informed The Associated Press that former President Irvigen is under arrest on board the
cruiser Belgrano and has not been permitted to leave Argentina jurisdiction.

The interior minister, interviewed
by the correspondent, denied reports
that Irvigen would be transferred to
a steamer from the Belgrano or landed at Montevideo.

Buenos Aires (CP) — Mystery today surrounded the whereabouts of Hip-olito Irigoyen, deposed Argentine president who yesterday, ill and feebly, was placed aboard a warship at La Plata and presumably started toward a place of exile.

It was learned today that the Uruguayan consul called his government at Montevideo yesterday that the cruiser, General Belgrano, had sailed for Montevideo with the former president aboard.

Preparations were made in the Uruguayan capital to receive him
last night. President Campisteguy delegating his secretary and other officials to meet him and make him welcome.

NO MENTION OF ISSUE IS MADE IN PLATFORM

Efforts by Group to Include Prohibition Meet With Dismal Failure

Columbus, O. (CP) — The Ohio state Republican platform placed before party's convention for adoption today carried no mention of prohibition though calling for enforcement of all laws.

Efforts of prohibition opponents to obtain from the resolutions committee a pronouncement for repeal or a referendum on prohibition met with disastrous failure. Only three votes, all cast by Cleveland members of the committee, were all the proposal could muster. Twenty-one of the 22 members of the committee participated in framing the document.

The plank dealing with prohibition follows closely the plank of the Kansas City national platform and the one adopted by the state convention
two years ago. It follows:

"We heartily endorse the declaration relative to law, observance and law enforcement contained in the Republican national platform. We believe in the sincere observance and conscientious enforcement of the provisions of our state and federal constitutions and of all the laws pursuant thereto."

Proposed planks calling for repeal of prohibition, referendums on both the Vostead and state enforcement acts were summarily voted down.
Advocates considered an attempt to carry the fight to the convention foolish.

Four Killed, Nine Injured In Eruption

Residents of Stricken Area
Eye Stromboli Volcano
With Shudders

Messina, Italy (CP) — The people of Messina, Stromboli and Lipari today turned anxious eyes toward the Stromboli volcano, which, strangely silent after its latest eruption, had kept thousands awake and on the alert throughout the night.

The nearly 3,000 residents of Stromboli island slept last night in the open, under tents provided by government ships hurriedly sent to them after yesterday's eruption and violent earthquake shock. Three thousand feet above them was the peak of the volcano, mysteriously quiet but with all of its reawakened deadly potentialities.

All of the Aeolian islands were affected by the earthquake but only the picturesque circular island of Stromboli suffered from the volcano disturbance.

Two torpedo boats came back from Stromboli shortly before midnight bringing one badly injured person, reporting four dead at Giustra, one woman missing and nine residents injured.

Many fires started by the volcano were extinguished by companies of firemen debarked from the warships.
Stromboli, in the Tyrrhenian,
where the ancients believed Aeolus,
God of the winds, resided and blew
good or bad breezes from his bulging cheeks, was the heaviest loser.

Aside from the fatalities three villages were partly destroyed and acres of fertile land laid waste. That more lives were not lost was due to warnings which the volcano itself sounded to the inhabitants.

500 HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS STRIKE, ASK SHORTER DAY

Watertown, Mass. (CP) — Five hundred striking high school students, 150 of whom were girls, staged a demonstration today before the junior high school which ended only with the intervention of police.

The student group "walked out" yesterday as a protest against the action of the school committee in adding an hour to the day's program.

Today, the "strikers" appointed a committee of eight students—four boys and four girls—who waited upon Supt. of Schools Wilfred Ciroe.
After a conference, during which the superintendent told them they were manifesting the wrong attitude, both leaders and strikers marched back to the junior high school but refused to go in.

The school commission will meet next Tuesday and will endeavor to find some solution of the situation.

Prohibition Is Failure, Says Wheeler

Washington (CP) — Senator Burton
K. Wheeler, Montana Democrat, ranked among the drys in congress, issued a statement today saying he had come to the opinion "that national prohibition is a failure and that each state should be left to regulate the liquor traffic as a majority of its citizens deem advisable."

"I voted for prohibition in Montana, because I felt that the old saloon was a curse to the American people and I wanted to do away with it. In the old days the brewers in many instances owned the fixtures,
the buildings and the license and in many instances controlled local politics."

"I am no more in favor of the saloon, no more in favor of the sale of liquor today than I was before but under prohibition you have in many cities more dives and speakeries where they are openly selling rotten whiskey than you had in the old days. Today in many communities, the bootlegger is becoming a greater political power and has more influence than the old time saloon keeper as evidenced by the fact that he is able to reach many of our higher officials. He is generally a much lower type of citizen. He has had a frightful corrupting influence upon our social, moral and political life."

ONE KILLED, TWO HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Youth Whose Family Just Moved to Appleton Dies
After Collision

One person was killed and two were critically injured in an automobile collision on the Winchester road, west of Neenah, about 5 o'clock
Thursday afternoon.

Gordon Trenery, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Trenery, who recently moved here from California and live at 519 N. Drew-st., died at Theda Clark hospital, Neenah from a fractured skull.

The injured are Roy Babcock and son Roy, Jr., route 4, Neenah. Both are in Theda Clark hospital suffering with severe lacerations about the head and body. The younger Babcock received a cut across his neck from which a large quantity of blood was lost.

Mr. Babcock, his son and Trenery were returning in their car from a fishing trip to Lake Poygan, when they met a large truck owned by the Linder Dairly company of Milwaukee, and driven by M. Brummer, Fond du Lac. The truck turned in front of the lighter machine which crashed into it and turned over in a ditch.

Brummer claimed he was blinded
by the sun in his face as he descended the hill before the turn onto the Larsen road. He said he did not see the small car approaching from the west until it collided with his truck.

TWO PLANES READY AT NEW YORK FOR ATLANTIC FLIGHTS

Roosevelt Field, N. Y. (CP) —
Two planes destined for Atlantic flights were in the air on test flights today, preparatory to take off as soon as weather prospects permit.

Roy W. Annell of Chicago took up the blue monoplane in which he hopes to fly alone to Paris and beyond and was soon followed by Ted Lunderer of Hollywood and Rogers Q. Williams, who plan a flight around the world.

Weather predictions today
made a takeoff unlikely before next week.

Taxing Body In Ruling On Stock Gains

Madison (CP) — Stock liquidation profits in 1926 must be assessed under the provisions of the 1927 income tax law rather than by those of the 1925 law, the state tax commission ruled in an order announced here today.

The order affirmed the determination of the Walworth income tax board of review involving the 1926 income of the estate of Walter A.
West, deceased.

In upholding the board of review,
the commission laid down the following rules regarding the computation of loss or gains in the liquida-tions of stock:

Disbursements in liquidation should be treated as payment for the liquidated stock and as liquidating profit or loss should be determined accordingly.

BELGIUM AND FRANCE WILL RECALL MEN

League Council Decides Forces Will Be Withdrawn
Within Three Months

RAIL SECURITY ASSURED
Body Also Votes to Increase
Number of World Court
Judges to 15

Geneva (CP) — The League of Nations council today decided the last remaining defense force of French and Belgian troops should be withdrawn from the Saar district within the next three months.

The contention of France has been that a force of 250 men was necessary to guarantee security of railway transportation in the Saar district. When the Saar commission agreed to guarantee the security of the railways Aristide Briand yielded to German requests.

The council also voted to increase the number of world court judges from 11 to 15, to increase the salaries of the judges, and to allow pensions to the personnel of the court after January next.

These three provisions are in accordance with the new world court statute, but were enacted by virtue of authority given in the original statute, which is still in force. Cuba had objected to some of the provisions of the new statute, but agreed to these adjustments.

It was said today that the absence of the Italian foreign minister, Grandi, who took his departure suddenly on Wednesday, had something to do with the delay in the Tunisia and Tripoli questions that have been dragging attention here.

Senate Body Resumes Campaign Hearings Next Week

COMMITTEE TO FINISH PROBE IN ILLINOIS

Senator Nye Says He Is Not Concerned About Having Been Shadowed

Washington — (P) — Chairman Nye of the senate campaign funds investigating committee said today hearings would be resumed by the full committee on the Illinois primary in Chicago next Monday and would continue all week.

The committee expects to conclude its Illinois inquiry. Then it will hold hearings in Nebraska and Colorado the week starting Sept. 22.

Nye said he was not concerned about having been shadowed by agents for Representative Ruth Hanna McCormick, Republican senator nominee in Illinois. Whether the inquiry into that activity would be continued was undetermined, he added, most of the witnesses next week having been called to testify on primary matters.

"The chairman denied any committee agents had made unauthorized investigations.

"There has been no personal surveillance of any candidate," he said. "The committee has not demanded documents other than those connected with campaign matters. We have not gone into the personal affairs of any candidate and no agent has done any snooping or shadowing. We have entered no homes and we have had nobody in closets. I know that the committee's agents have not conducted themselves improperly."

TO QUESTION NORRIS

The committee hopes to question George W. Norris, a grocer, who unsuccessfully sought to enter the Republican primary in Nebraska against Senator George W. Norris. Senator Norris had planned to run as an independent if the grocer's name were allowed on the ticket, since voters would have no way of distinguishing between the two.

Nye said the committee would go into the charges that an Anti-Saloon League official in Colorado had sold stock in enterprises with which he was connected to senatorial candidates.

H. said it seemed certain the committee would go to Massachusetts but probably not until after October. He mentioned charges of excessive expenditures having been made against Wm. M. Butler, candidate for the Republican senatorial nomination.

He did not expect the committee to go to Maine, but said a candidate whom he did not name, had been "evasive" about his campaign expenditures. Nye said an investigation in New Jersey had not been decided upon, although there were indications expenditures in behalf of Dwight W. Morrow, Republican senatorial nominee, exceeded $50,000.

Agents who have been investigating in Tennessee will meet the committee in Chicago next week. Their report depends whether the committee will go there. Nye said charges had been made that negroes were allowed to vote illegally in that state and there were also charges that the census had been changed to pave the way for illegal voting.

There are no indications now that the committee will go to Oklahoma, Alabama or South Carolina.

SHORTAGE OF WATER DELAYS OPENING OF SCHOOL IN INDIANA

Hilbert—The hot summer is nothing but a memory to the Fox River valley, but down in Indiana things are different. Reinhardt Jaseckels, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Jaseckels of Chilton, who left recently to resume his studies at St. Nimrod's college, Nimrod, Ind., received word enroute to Indiana that he should not return because of the shortage of water at the seminary. Because of the dry season this summer, the college, which houses about 400 students, is unable to secure sufficient water to permit the opening of school.

Mr. Jaseckels, who reached Chicago before learning of the results of the drought, returned to his home in Chilton after a visit with his brother in Chicago.

HAVANA PROVIDES EASY DIVORCES

New Code of Laws Contains 16 Basic Grounds—No Review of Case Necessary

Havana — (P) — Paris and Reno, gay meccas of divorce-bent Americans, now are experiencing a bit of Latin-American competition.

Six months ago congress presented this republic with a new code of divorce laws. News of the ease of obtaining a Cuban divorce has started going the rounds and already, court records show that 20 Americans have obtained decrees.

The cost of the divorce, including attorney's fees and other minor expenses, is estimated at about $300. Americans need nothing more than a certificate of marriage to institute proceedings. Court appearances and testimony are not required; nor is residence necessary.

Cuba's antedated divorce law of Nov. 5, 1889, contained but four basic grounds and prohibited marriage afterward. The new law contains 16. The new sentiment is for dissolution of marriage when one or both of the parties concerned may be guilty of cruelty, non-support, desertion, cruelty to children, incompatibility, or any one of a number of others.

But—and here is where the expected divorce boom comes in—review of the case is not absolutely necessary. Americans need only to pre-

RE-ELECT

John E. Hantschel County Clerk A MESSAGE

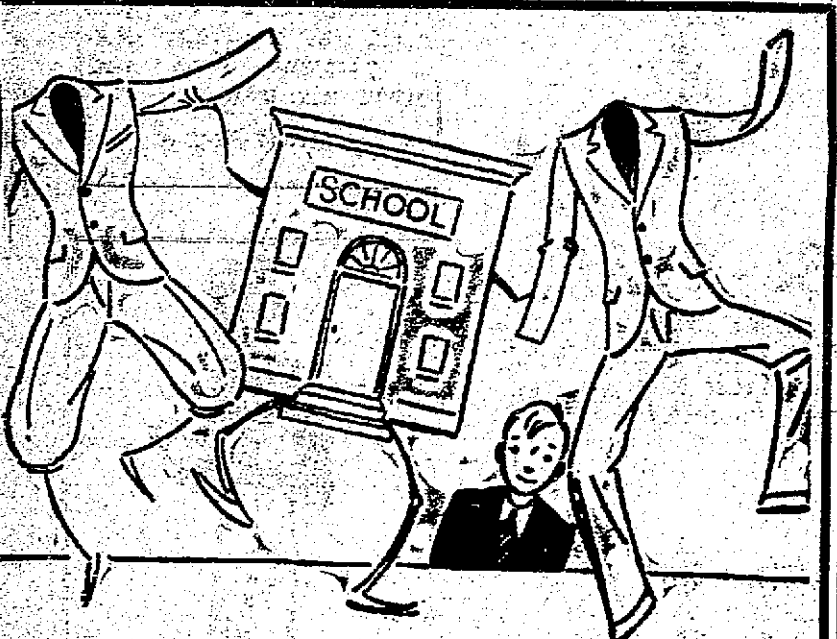

Eight years ago a host of John E. Hantschel's friends appealed to the citizens of Outagamie County to reward faithful self-sacrificing effort in the army camps and on the battle fields of France by election to Public Office. They said if any qualified person is entitled to hold a public position of trust it is one who suffered and became disabled in the defense of the Nation in its day of peril. They promised too that John E. Hantschel would give efficient service to the County.

In this campaign while that appeal has just as much merit his friends can confidently present his public record and ask for a decision upon that alone.

John E. Hantschel has given the most faithful efficient and courteous type of service. He has been commended repeatedly in Resolutions passed by the County Board. Thousands who have come in contact with his office, have left deeply impressed with his sincerity to serve and the warmth of his personality. Hundreds can attest to the fact that they were cheerfully rendered service out of the usual and ordinary working hours. He has never failed, either day or night, workdays or holidays, to respond to a request for service. The accountants who audit the County Books have on numerous occasions praised the thorough and systematic conduct of his office. Those commendations are on file with the Finance committee of the County Board. What more could you ask for in a public servant?

Citizens of Outagamie County, let us re-elect John E. Hantschel to the office of County Clerk by an unprecedented majority.

CAUTION PUBLIC AGAINST EATING DECAYED FRUITS

Care Required to Combat 'Intestinal Influenza,' Phy- sician Says

Although there is no epidemic of gastro-enteritis, considered by many "intestinal influenza," there have been a great many cases in the city, some of them resulting in death. Dr. P. P. Doeherty, city physician, cautions the public against eating decayed or green fruits, or an excess of certain kinds of vegetables, at this time of the year. If there is any evidence of a stomach disturbance the local health officer advises that the victim be put to bed and a doctor called. Often the malady can be cured by a day in bed and complete abstinence from food for 24 or 36 hours.

The illness, which is affecting adults and children alike, but which has been fatal only in younger children, is not an influenza, Dr. Doeherty points out. It is not a germ disease, he says, but is usually caused by eating decayed or unripe fruits and vegetables. Serious illness can be avoided by immediate treatment.

ACCIDENT VICTIM SLIGHTLY IMPROVED

X-ray examinations have revealed that William Schroeder, Black Creek, who fell from the Chicago and North Western railroad bridge near the Pullman Pulp and Paper company Tuesday afternoon, fractured his skull. He regained consciousness Thursday morning, and was reported to be improving. His condition is not considered critical. Mr. Schroeder fell from a ladder into two feet of water, striking his head on a rock, while he and other railroad employees were repairing the bridge. He is confined to St. Elizabeth hospital.

Almost all valley council boy scout troops completed plans for opening fall meetings. Several of the groups, most of them local units, are holding their first fall meeting this week, while others will be open sessions next week.

The youngsters are making plans for winter projects, including scout rallies. Fall hikes to Camp Chicago also are being organized.

The drum and bugle corps is expected to start its weekly rehearsals within the next week. Lloyd Schroeder, deputy scout commissioner, is corps leader.

Some Species Of Lilies Are Very Easy To Grow

There is a notion that lilies are hard to grow—perhaps this is because they have about them an indescribable air of mystery and ancient splendor. It is true, of course, that some of the rarer species are difficult to grow, but there are quite enough remaining to give one a lily season of three months' duration in which loveliness follows loveliness with breaks of only relatively brief length.

Lilies are imported from China, Japan, Russia and other European countries, and some are native of America and grown in this country. Consequently, some varieties may be received from the growers very late for fall planting. It is best, however, that they be planted in the ground, if possible, rather than to hold them over until spring.

Moss lilies will succeed in any light, sandy or loamy soil which is well enriched and properly drained. Decayed peat and leaf mold are often successfully mixed with the soil. Well rotted cow manure is best, thoroughly mixed in, followed in a few years with top dressing. Fresh manure must be avoided.

Plant the bulbs three times their own depth and mulch heavily for winter protection after the first frosts come. Lilies do not enjoy being moved and do best if left undisturbed for several years.

Probably one of the best known and loveliest of the lilies is the immaculate late white Madonna (Lilium candidum). It is one of the earliest to bloom, sending forth its spikes of snowy white flowers at the same time that Larkspur appears, with which it is most successfully planted as a companion flower.

Next in popularity, perhaps, is the Regal Lily (Lilium Regium). Growing almost anywhere, establishing itself without difficulty, it is the easiest to grow, most beautiful and hardiest of the lilies in cultivation. Its gracious beauty has earned for it the name of "Queen of Lilies" and it is truly a royal member of the garden. A vigorous grower with sturdy stems, 4 to 5 feet high, densely covered with long, lanceolate foliage. Its glorious purple-stained flowers are waxen white with a glowing golden throat and a fragrance entirely unexpressed in the entire kingdom of flowers. Plant the bulb, about six inches deep, with a little sand below it, and the Regal asks no more.

The gay scarlet and orange Red Lilies of the elegant type will grow and flourish in almost any ordinary border, as well the well known Tiger Lilies. Henry's Lily enjoys an abundance of sun and room and its requirements are met if it sends up its 6 to 10 foot stem crowned with the umbrella-like spray of bright golden flowers, shaped somewhat like those of the gorgeous Auratum. Hanson's Lily will produce its little stiff yellow blooms in almost any semi-shaded spot.

From Japan comes the Auratum or Golden-banded Japanese Lily. It grows 4 to 6 feet high and is the

CITY DUMP CLOSED FOR FEW HOURS AS MISTAKE CROPS UP

A word to the wise is sufficient, and John Deconess not even a word is necessary.

It all happened this way. A city committee went out to inspect the city dump on the John Tracy farm, which John rakes, burns, and buries. On the way back to town, noticing the letters on the signs directing the way to the dump were almost obliterated by the onslaughts of the elements, they uprooted them and brought them back to the street department barns for repainting.

John noticed this and decided the mayor and his committee were "closing shop" on the dump. So he barricaded the gateway, and when the next two loads of garbage came out, staunchly refused to admit them, on the grounds that there was no longer a city dump on the John Tracy farm. It took much telephoning, sputtering, and a few well-chosen words before the tangle was finally unravelled and John convinced that the city officials had no ulterior motive in depositing the weatherbeaten signs.

State Finds Appleton Drinking Water Very Pure

NEED FOR NEW EQUIPMENT IS POINTED OUT

Inspector Says More Low Pump Capacity and Aerator Capacity Necessary

That despite the existence of certain inadequacies in some of the purification plant units of the Appleton Water department, a uniformly safe water has been produced through the careful control of the superintendent, A. J. Hall, was the conclusion of O. J. Muegge, assistant sanitary engineer of the state board of health following an investigation of the Appleton water supply during July.

After summing up the plant equipment the engineer suggested the installation as soon as possible of an auxiliary chlorination apparatus, enlargement of aerator capacity, increased low lift pump capacity, completion of filter numbers 7 and 8, and installation of modern rate controls and loss of head gauges.

At the time of the July 15 investigation, during the hottest part of the summer, it was found that the water filtration plant was being taxed to capacity, the limiting feature being the low lift pumps and the aerator equipment. During the second investigation on July 26 trouble was being experienced with taste and odor in the water supply caused by the heavy formation of algae in Little Lake Butte des Morts. By careful operation of the plant and use of super-chlorination the objectionable tastes and odors were considerably alleviated, but this experience demonstrated the desirability of increased aerator capacity and the need for increased filter capacity.

The report further pointed out that as much as one of the chlorination machines is necessary for pre-chlorination and the other for final chlorination, failure of one of these machines might result in the production of an unsatisfactory water.

A material improvement in the status of Appleton's water supply was brought about by the completion of the intercepting sewer for the convenience of all sewage to a point below the water plant, and the installation of aerating equipment inside the plant for winter operations, the report indicated.

CABBAGE CROPS OF FOUR STATES TO BE STUDIED BY GROUP

Appleton Men Plan Long Tour to Get Information of Conditions

Gus Sell, county agricultural agent and three members of the Appleton Cabbage Growers association, a cooperative, will leave Monday on a 10 or 11 day trip through Ohio, Pennsylvania, Michigan and New York, inspecting cabbage crops and learning methods used in marketing. Most of the time will be spent in New York state.

Men making the trip with Mr. Sell are Phil Buxby, town of Grand Chute, president of the association, Matt Schaefer town of Buchanan and William Schroeder, town of Greenville. The trip will be made by car.

The purpose of the trip, Mr. Sell said, is to learn the condition of the late Danish crop in the states visited, how great a yield is expected, whether the crop will be sold immediately or held, and other information relative to marketing.

Local and state cooperatives will be visited, their organization plans reviewed, and contracts will be made to enable local farmers to get direct information on cabbage from the eastern growers and buyers.

New York state is the biggest cabbage growing state in the country.

WRISTON TELLS FROSH HOW TO CHOOSE WORK

Pointing out that surveys show few persons stay in the vocations for which they prepared themselves, President Henry M. Wriston urged Lawrence freshmen to be broad in their preparation in a talk on Vocational Guidance at convocation Friday morning. He cautioned them to choose their vocations carefully, keeping in mind such factors as income, prestige, power, social position and the time in life they wish to reach the peak of their profession.

Thursday evening the freshmen were entertained at an organ recital given by LeVahn Masch at the Methodist church, and tonight they will attend a frolic at the gymnasium. Afternoons are devoted to conferences, lectures, physical examinations and registration.

framework of the League of Nations, involving an economic and political collaboration, and disarmament preceded by guarantees of mutual security.

Mr. Henderson advanced the Anglo-Saxon viewpoint that peace is best assured through disarmament.

"In our profound belief," he said, "security and disarmament are closely interlocked and nothing can make our peoples truly safe from war until a treaty of general disarmament has been made. Security is impossible if competitive military preparations continue as they are going on today. ... After all there is none of us who in his heart does not know that of all security measures disarmament is in itself the most important."

The logical third member of this argument, Dmo Grandi, Italian foreign minister, is not in Geneva and therefore will not be heard. Grandi departed for Rome Wednesday just prior to inauguration of the assembly session, much to the amazement of other delegates who had supposed he would wish to make known his views in the discussion of M. Briand's European federation project.

It seemed likely today that the project would pass to committee stage for discussion and formulation, perhaps change, before it again is brought before the assembly.

Dr. Munch also submitted to the assembly, on behalf of Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Finland, Estonia, Latvia, Holland and Switzerland, a resolution calling for regulation of "most favored nation principles" in its application.

"The assembly, considering the uncertainty which now exists concerning the interpretation and application of the most favored nation clause, asks the council to study the means of expanding the work undertaken some time ago by the League of Nations with a view to international regulation of the problem of the clause of the most favored nation," the resolution said.

The representatives of Holland and Denmark both expressed their concern over "the economic anarchy prevailing in Europe." They urged their colleagues to get together in some form of organization through which measures could be taken to curb the tendency towards rising tariff walls. They also urged that the work of disarmament be hastened in the hope that a general disarmament conference might be called next year.

DIDN'T SELL ANY LIQUOR TO YOUTH, GRIESBACH SAYS

Defense Attorneys Inquire into Whereabouts of Gordon Riese on Aug. 24

Activities of Gordon Riese, 17 year old Black Creek boy, the weekend of Aug. 24 and 25, were reviewed in municipal court Friday morning, as attorneys continued taking testimony in the youth's damage suit against John Griesbach, operator of a soft drink parlor at Mackville.

Riese and his father are suing Griesbach claiming that the youth purchased alleged poison moonshine in Griesbach's place and that it affected his eyes causing injury to them and leaving a condition that may cause the youth to go blind anytime. Young Riese asks $10,000 damages and his father $3,000.

John Griesbach, the defendant, was on the stand Friday morning. His second appearance. He was called Thursday as an adverse witness for the plaintiff. Griesbach testified he never sold the youth any alleged liquor on the night he was supposed to have visited Griesbach's place. Riese claims he purchased the liquor from Griesbach's son.

Testimony late Friday morning was relative to activities of Gordon Riese, the night of Aug. 24, several witnesses claiming they saw the youth at a dance hall at Drephal, that he was drinking from a pint bottle and that he was loud and boisterous.

Indications are the case will continue all Friday afternoon and carry into Saturday before going to the jury. Judge Theodore Berg is presiding.

HAVE NO CLEWS TO TWO BANK BANDITS

Bankers Association Investigator Expected to Take Over Case

No clues which might lead to identification of the two men who Wednesday held up and robbed the State Bank of Nichols had been uncovered by the sheriff's office or by officers of the bank up to Friday noon.

The bank was held about 2:45 Wednesday afternoon by a lone bandit who entered and asked the cashier, Jacob Hahn, about the credit of a man living in the district, stating he wished to sell the man a car. During the conversation the bandit reached into his back pocket and pulling a revolver commanded the cashier to stick up his hands.

The bandit took $200 which was in a draw near the cashier's window and then ordered Mr. Hahn into the vault to get more. While Hahn was in the vault where he was preparing to use a rifle, the bandit left the bank, jumped into a car driven by an accomplice and the two sped away. They were driving a blue Pontiac sedan.

State bankers association investigators have been notified of the robbery but up to noon Friday they had not arrived at Nichols to take charge of the case.

The bandits were seen around Nichols for about 20 minutes previous to the hold up. The bandit was described as being very tall, with straight black hair, dark eyes and complexion and white teeth. The driver of the car was dark but short and heavy set.

START CAMPAIGN TO STOP ABUSES IN STOCK SALES

Conduct Investigation to Determine Where Regulation
Is Needed

BY PRESTON S. KRECKER
Copyright 1930 by Cons. Press
New York—The National Association of Securities Commissioners has started a campaign for protection of the investing public against abuses in the issue and sale of stocks. The man who will conduct that campaign is Watson Washburn, deputy attorney general of New York, state and head of the state bureau of securities. Mr. Washburn recently completed an investigation of several hundred investment trusts operating in New York state.

Mr. Washburn will concentrate his activities on investigation of the proper methods of valuing preferred and common stocks sold to the public and on determining proper and legitimate practices in the sale of such stocks. In other words, he aims to standardize accounting practices and marking methods. In that work, he will be assisted by a committee representing the association of securities commissioners.

In discussing the aims of his investigations, Mr. Washburn today pointed out that whereas railway and public utility stock issues are, generally speaking, subject to some specific governmental control, industrial issues may be sold without any supervision excepting such as may be exercised by state securities commissioners. Thirty-three states have created such commissions, leaving 15 states which have none. Moreover, laws governing commissions in the states which have them differ. As an outcome, industrial issues may be and are created in haphazard fashion and marketed often without due regard to the rights of the investor.

Some of the things which the Washburn committee will delve into are: the payment of dividends from capital surplus created by the sale of stock instead of from actual earnings; proper accounting practices in appraising property values and calculating earnings; balance sheets "after giving effect to present financing," which in Mr. Washburn's judgment should be used only where there is a responsible underwriter of the issue; maximum selling commission; maintaining a market, either privately or on a stock exchange.

Those are matters which relate chiefly to new issues. In addition the committee proposes to look into the question of pool manipulation of stocks already listed on some recognized stock exchange. It is obvious that prices of old issues are frequently inflated to excessive prices by questionable methods.

TWO METHODS
Pools operate to distribute stocks to the public at high prices, generally speaking, in two ways.

In the first general case insiders holding a large block of some particular stock are anxious, perhaps because of adverse developments known only to themselves, to unload it on the public. The mechanics of such an operation are to give a "call" on a large block of stock to a pool operator at a price somewhere near the current market. The operator and his associates generate activity in the stock either by "wash" sales or by friendly cooperation and eventually work it up above the call price, after which it is liquidated.

In the second general case a pool buys a large block of stock, either privately or in the open market, which the members of the pool think offers favorable opportunity for exploitation, and then proceeds to advance the quotation in the market in the same way as in the first instance.

The committee entertains no chimerical ideas about regulation of securities issues and markets, according to Mr. Washburn. His idea is not to create additional regulatory legislation but to standardize practices and eliminate fraud. In the last analysis all the laws and regulation in the world will not protect the public from making "blue sky" investments without exercise of common sense on the part of investors themselves.

SHAWANO FARMERS ORGANIZE COUNTY DAIRY COOPERATIVE

Expect Association Will Soon Number 1,500
Members

BY W. F. WINSEY
Shawano—A new kind of progressive dairy history was written Wednesday, when 100 dairymen of Shawano-co in session here put the finishing touches on the organization plans of the first county-wide dairy cooperative marketing institution in Wisconsin. The cooperative, farmer-owned and farmer-controlled has been named the Badger Cooperative Consolidated.

At the outset the business of the cooperative will be done in a large, flexible central plant in this city, with receiving plants at Mattoon, Wittenberg, Tigerton and Bonduel. Through action of the Wednesday meeting, the incorporation committee that thus far has directed the organization work became the board of directors of the cooperative. The committee, given authority by the meeting, named nine other members to assist, one in each dairy center of the county. Each member of the board of directors will be the chairman of a local committee having charge of the local receiving plant. The names of the members of incorporation committee are: Dr. O. P. Partridge, T. A. Loken, O. B. Hagen, Albert Klebesadel and Otto Kroening. The additional members appointed are: Walter Wright, C. Guerin, Fred Westfall, Norbert Brunner, Alvin Johnson, Joseph Brunner, William Sell, Charles Kronz, Walter Kromer and John Kroll.

555 MEMBERS
The cooperative now has 555 members. When the number is increased to 800 the central and receiving plants are to open up for business. To place the cooperative on a firm foundation, the members sign a five-year contract with the cooperative. The erection of any buildings and the equipment of the buildings will be financed by the members taking stock. They will pay for the stock gradually through small monthly deductions from their milk checks. It is expected that the membership of the cooperative will soon reach 1,500 which is one-half of the dairymen of the county.

The sale of all the dairy products of the Badger Cooperative Consolidated will be made by the National Cheese Producers' Federation. The cooperative will obtain loans for conducting its business from the federal farm board through the National Cheese Producers' Federation, which has supervision of federal farm board dairy loans in Wisconsin. To prevent competition the federal farm board refuses to loan money to two or more dairy marketing cooperatives in Wisconsin, it was stated at the Wednesday meeting and the National Cheese Producers' Federation was made the dairy marketing cooperative of Wisconsin.

The movement toward the organization in Shawano-co was started by County Agent G. F. Baumeister in the court house, Oct. 8, 1929.

On account of the over-increasing demands from Chicago, for fluid milk the cheese factories were closing up and because the dairymen in the southern part of the state were not able to comply with the requirements of the Chicago board of health at once, Chicago began drawing temporary supplies of milk from northern Wisconsin, two years ago, including Shawano-co and disturbing the business of the cheese factories.

Because he saw the same evolution starting in Shawano-co that he had witnessed in southern Wisconsin, Mr. Baumeister proposed the cooperative.

NATIONAL TOURNEYS OPPOSED IN STATE

Marquette—(AP)—High schools of Wisconsin are opposed to national tournaments, according to Paul F. Neversman, secretary-treasurer of the Wisconsin Interscholastic association, who has announced results of questionnaires sent to members.

He received replies from 233 state high schools, and 219 of them voted in favor of abolishing the national basketball tournament. Only 48 votes as compared to 201 against were in favor of continuing the University of Chicago national track and field meet.

A proposal of the North Central association to limit high school competition to contests and meets controlled by high school organizations was favored 224 to 45.

DEPRESSION DIDN'T RESULT FROM STOCK CRASH SAYS WHITNEY

Head of Market Claims Disaster Was Apparent Several Months Before

BY PRESTON S. KRECHER
Copyright 1930 By Cons. Press.
New York —(CFA) The perennial controversy over the causes of the business depression is raging almost as acutely as did the international debate not so long ago on the blame for the World War. It cannot be said that economists, bankers and business men, all of whom have taken a fling at the problem, have yet definitely settled the moot question. The latest contribution to the dispute is by Richard Whitney, president of the New York Stock exchange. Mr. Whitney's particular concern is to absolve the stock exchange from blame. In an address before the Merchants Association of New York, the head of the greatest security market in the world challenges those who have repeatedly ascribed the decline in business to the break in the stock market by boldly affirming that the stock market was the effect and not the cause of that decline.

He asserts that signs of a reaction in business had become apparent as early as June last year, three months before the crash, but that they were then invisible to the public and therefore failed to give the required warning of impending disaster.

DIDN'T KNOW
The implication is that, had the public been apprised of the real business situation, it would have desisted from reckless speculation in the late summer and early fall of 1929 and thereby would have escaped the calamity that befell the country in October and November.

Taking the lack of necessary information as his text, Mr. Whitney appealed for fuller and prompter statistical information as one safeguard against a repetition of the 1929 disaster.

"Much important statistical information showing the trend in trade was not available until some time after the movement had started," he said. "The exchange has long realized that prompt statistical information should be available to the public. Its endeavor to secure from its listed corporations the publication of quarterly earnings was the first step toward making available more timely and accurate statistics in regard to business conditions."

No one will dispute the desirability of full and prompt publication of earnings and other financial information by corporations whose securities are listed on the New York Stock exchange or deny that if more such information were available, the task of wisely investing in securities would be rendered less formidable.

It would appear also that the stock exchange could go further than it already has in placing such information at the disposal of investors.

There still are too many "mystery" stocks in the board whose gyrations in the trading are possible only because little up-to-date information regarding their earnings is available. While a long list of corporations publish quarterly statements of earnings and railroads are required by the federal government to issue monthly reports on earnings, there is also a large number of listed industrial companies, including some of the most important in the country, which issue reports on earnings but once a year and then often several months after their fiscal year has closed.

It is difficult to appraise correctly the value of any stock when the only statistical information available on its earnings and financial position is, as in many instances, a year old. The inevitable result is that rumor is substituted for fact and the public is inveigled into buying stocks which possibly, were the truth known, it should be selling.

The Story of Sue

BY MARGERY HALE

"YES, Mrs. Gerard sent a picture," the hotel publicity agent told Corinne, in answer to her question. "Do you want to see it?"

"No, I just wondered," Corinne had decided that the less interest she displayed now in the group of pictures of hotel guests taken from youthful photographs, the better. Julia's picture had arrived. Corinne's work was done.

Nevertheless, she glanced eagerly at her copy of the hotel paper the next morning. Then she sighed blissfully. Julia Gerard's hair was braided into tight pigtail and bound with very narrow ribbons. Her dress had a high neck. She was plainly of a different age than the girls whose faces smiled beneath careless bows and whose slender throats were revealed above the low necks of their sports dresses. No names were used on the pictures. Corinne knew everyone would ask questions until the identities were learned.

FALL BIBLE CLASSES TO BE STARTED

St. Matthew congregation will open its fall Bible classes at 7:30 next Tuesday evening in the sub-auditorium of the church. A study of the life of Christ will be begun. After this, Bible class the juniors and seniors will meet for entertainment. Dart ball and other games will be played and a lunch will be served.

The Bible classes will meet every Tuesday night for juniors and seniors jointly. The two groups will meet alternately Tuesday after the class for business and entertainment. Clarence Hackbert is the Senior president and Norman Pope is president of the Junior society.

READ PROGRAM FOR NEXT YEAR

The activities calendar for the year was read at the meeting of the Baptist Young People's cabinet of First Baptist church Wednesday night at the church. Each committee has defined goals for itself. It was decided that the Fellowship commission will have charge of the program on the first Sunday, the Service commission on the second, the Devotional Life commission on the third, and the Stewardship commission on the fourth Sunday of each month. When there is a fifth Sunday in the month, the cabinet will be in charge.

Two plays will be put on during the year, according to plans made at this time. Robert Eads will take charge of the evening services next Sunday. He will tell of his trip to Toronto, Canada, this summer.

enough to have ever looked like that, are you?"

Julia Gerard's breast was rising and falling, her nostrils were quivering. The publicity agent for the hotel was wiping his forehead nervously.

"But that picture looked all right to me," he told Corinne, pulling her aside.

"Of course it did. If you had been a woman I couldn't have pulled the wool over your eyes. I trusted to your manly ignorance of styles and their relation to ages to let the thing get by. Now I'm due to take a sail. So long!"

She slipped away, laughing a little and ran across the lawn. She stopped as someone called her. It was Harry.

WE WOMEN

A WORD TO THE WISE

"Try and forget me. I'm not worth caring for. It would be better for you if you had never met me." A newspaper quotes from a note written by a confidence man to a woman who was in love with him.

At the time those lines were written she did not know he was a confidence man and the little note did not accomplish its purpose.

She did not believe he was not worth caring for and was probably tenderly touched by his self-deprecation.

If she had known more of human nature or been wiser in her judgment of men, the little note would have told her much.

It would have warned her he was getting tired of her—that there was probably a great deal of truth in his estimate of himself.

"Better to forget me," from man or woman, means that love is in the wane—if it is truthfully said.

"No one who loves wishes to be forgotten."

It is an easy and flattering way of saying the affair has gone on long enough—the one who is tired wishes to be free.

It is sometimes true that a man deeply in love may feel he is not entirely worthy of the woman he cares for. But if a man solemnly says—when he is sober—that he is not worth caring for, the chances are largely in favor of the statement being correct.

Normal, well-balanced people are quite sure they are worth caring for.

They would suggest otherwise only in hope of being politely contradicted.

The erratic, the self-centered, the unstable and the degenerate are fond of that plaint.

They do not mind admitting it, because in some strange and subtle manner they are pleased with their own irresponsibility. It seems interesting and romantic to them.

They are secretly proud of being "they think dangerous." They are not sincere and do not wish to be taken seriously.

It is the hallmark of this type that sooner or later they will warn people against themselves.

It would save much unhappiness if people would understand their admissions to be psychological confessions of simple and revealing truths.

In the case of the confidence man and his lady love, it would have saved her a jail sentence.

In the parlance of the day, you can "get a man's number" if he tells you not to trust him!

Our Children

By Angelo Patri

HINDSIGHT

We all know the child who understands after the event. When he has come to grief he can tell you exactly how it happened. He explains the situation so clearly, sets forth his failure so frankly, that we wonder how such an intelligent child could make so silly a mistake. His hindsight is so much better than his foresight.

If the child is mentally healthy his is a matter of experience. If he is permitted to benefit by his mistakes, allowed to take the consequences of his poor judgment, his impulsive actions, his heedlessness, he will very soon begin to consider beforehand rather than afterward.

Tilly takes her dancing slippers, the only pair she has, to the shoe-maker just two hours before she needs them for the party. The cobler says, "Yes, yes, they will be ready," puts them on a shelf and sets them there. Poor Tilly. But she knew long before the party night that her slippers needed straightening. Why did she not attend to the job in time? If you do not lend her a pair of slippers, if she has to find a solution for her problem herself, she will be likely to take thought ahead of time for here next early night.

Sam saves up money to go to the circus in town. When he gets there he spends all the money he has forgetting that he has to have ten cents carfare. He goes to the shore on the day and forgets his bathing suit. His sister invites a girl to come to lunch and does not remember that it is mother's day off and that there will be a lunch waiting or her on the pantry shelf, for one of a few such experiences teach foresight as nothing else can do, provided nobody comes to the rescue.

Doing the daily chores helps this weakness a lot if the family is wise about it. Instead of reminding and reminding, and then doing the job herself, let the child make good even though it costs him a coveted privilege.

School work suffers a great deal because of this lack of foresight. I'll write my notes at the end of the week," usually means that the notes are lost, that the notebook is never up to date, and at the end of the term the child is frantically begging somebody to lend him his notes so he can copy them. A most wasteful, useless practice.

Homework that is assigned for a definite date is put off until the sacher issues a decree of banishment until it is forthcoming. Lessons are lost, time is wasted, all because the child had not forethought.

YOUR VOTE

Will Help Pile Up a Record-Breaking Plurality for Governor Kohler

Vote Tuesday SEPT. 16th

ACTIONS speak louder than words

Back of Governor Kohler's candidacy is a record of real achievement, not mere promises. This record of some of the things Governor Kohler has done is the best guarantee of what you can expect from him during the next two years.

- 1—Improved labor conditions by knocking out "Yellow Dog" contracts (prohibiting employers from forcing workers to agree not to join union).
- 2—Secured fair distribution of Old-Age Pensions.
- 3—Assured 8-hour day on public works through new authority given the Industrial Commission.
- 4—Authorized labor unions to arrange for group insurance for their members.
- 5—Compelled maintenance of full crews on detached locomotives running on main lines.
- 6—Has increased allowances made by State to farmers whose cows have been destroyed due to tuberculosis, from $20 to $35 and for registered animals from $45 to $70.
- 7—Assured dairymen continued fight against spread of tuberculosis among cattle by triennial tuberculin tests in areas already tested.
- 8—Created full-time Highway Commission in interests of better roads and road-building economy.
- 9—Consolidated all State agricultural departments into Department of Agriculture and Markets in interests of Wisconsin farmers.
- 10—Secured State expense control thru full-time budget department.
- 11—Consolidated State's nine trust funds into one in interests of safety and economy.
- 12—Centralized all State purchases in single bureau for greater purchasing economy and efficiency.
- 13—Promoted child welfare through the adoption of a Children's Code affording protection to unfortunate children... one of the most constructive pieces of social legislation ever passed in America.
- 14—Protected State against confusion and legal expense of unconstitutional and contradictory laws by vetoing "fool" bills.

Wisconsin is firm for Kohler. Wisconsin is loyal in its faith in good government, efficient government. Wisconsin refuses to be misled by radical bickerings and false charges. And Wisconsin is going to the polls Tuesday to register a record-breaking plurality for Kohler.

The best guarantee you can give Governor Kohler is your vote for his entire ticket — a vote for a cabinet that will work with the Governor, not against him.

Your vote at the polls Tuesday — the vote of your neighbor next door and of your friend around the corner — will count far more than today's intention to vote. Now is your chance to help the cause of good government. Now is your chance to shatter a campaign of false accusations, and innuendo waged by professional office-seekers against Wisconsin's great Governor. Take advantage of it. Make your vote count. Vote for Kohler.

A vote for the entire ticket is the best support you can give the Governor.

RIVER POLLUTION AT HEIGHT, FISH ARE ENDANGERED

Speaker Says Condition Will Be Serious if There Is No Relief in 10 Days

Neenah—Unless a radical change takes place in water conditions within the next 10 days, the same conditions are expected to exist as in 1925 when thousands of fish were killed up and down the river, according to Henry Rothchild, chemist for the Kimberly-Clark company who spoke at a meeting of the Twin City Sportsman club at Danish Brotherhood hall Thursday night. More than 100 members attended.

Mr. Rothchild claimed more than 1,000 tons of decayed weed matter passes down the river daily causing trouble for the fish, especially carp, and other than game fish. It will be noticed that the dead fish become more numerous as one proceeds down the river, because after the water leaves the lake on its course toward Green Bay it gathers more and more of the decayed matter which eats up the oxygen and causes the fish to die, he said.

The present polluted condition of the water, the speaker claimed, is the worst in several years and there should be some way to freshen the water occasionally and wash this green matter, which is composed of millions of particles resembling paint, down the river and out into the larger bodies of water where there is more oxygen. Mr. Rothchild answered questions put to him by members of the club as did Game Warden Dunham and Jesse, who were guests at the meeting.

It was reported that the pleasant reserve had been posted with white posts 500 feet apart. The reserve, located in Winchester, to be closed for a five-year period to allow the birds and any other wild game to propagate. An effort is being made by the club to secure a piece of land adjacent to the reserve, a mile and a half square, for the purpose of preserving prairie chickens.

The club is in sympathy with the one-day rest during the duck hunting season, provided the state does not take Sunday away, as the present day Wednesday, in the middle of the week, gives the birds a chance to alight after being driven away.

A proposed law to keep a man at the several government locks during the season when the fish are going up river to spawn, to open and shut the lock gates every hour during the day and night to allow the fish to pass through, was read but no action taken.

Following the meeting a committee of women served a lunch after which schafkopf was played in which prizes were won by Gus Blom, Carl Hauke and Jack Bylow.

UNEMPLOYMENT IS SUBJECT OF TALK BY DR. PEABODY

Appleton Minister Advocates Adoption of Unemployment Insurance Plan

Menasha—Adoption of an unemployment insurance plan similar to that in effect in England was advocated by Dr. H. E. Peabody, pastor of the First Congregational church at Appleton, as a means of relieving the situation in the United States. Dr. Peabody discussed the unemployment situation in an address before the Menasha Rotary club at its weekly luncheon at Hotel Menasha Wednesday noon.

He urged the Rotarians and all other business men in the United States to seriously consider the unemployment question which now confronts the country. He drew on his experiences as encountered in a visit to Great Britain two years ago to depict the great problem of unemployment insurance used in that country.

Despite the fact that unemployment conditions are deplored by employers and employees, alike, over which neither has any control, the problem is one which must be faced, he said, and he referred to it as the religious and civic duty of every American citizen to give serious thought to a means of remedy.

BLANKS MACHINERY

The economic question has been brought about largely through machinery taking the place of men, he said. One instance was cited where a single machine now employed in metropolitan newspaper offices under direction of one man is being made to do the work of 500 men.

"What started the industrial revolution with the discovery of steam as power and the telegrapher promises to prove the second industrial revolution," he said. "This new elaboration in machinery extends as far as the farm and the movement is under full swing and growing. Because any worker now has at his elbow machinery equal to thirty-five slaves, hundreds of men and women have been thrown out of employment. Production has increased to such an extent that it is said to be now producing enough goods in eight months for twelve months consumption."

"Through this development the first evidence of distress comes to the merchant and manufacturer. This surplus in the necessities of life may prove a menace to the American form of government. The fact that 3,700,000 men were out of employment last April is a mighty serious matter. Still it is being transferred from men to machinery with the result that skilled laborers are being trained men, family men and old men are being laid off. The problem must be studied, if we are to offset its value to the bolshevistic movement; some better solution of the menace must be discovered."

SPLENDID WORK

"Our manufacturers in the Fox river valley are doing a splendid work and the federal government is awakening to the importance of the question. We need fact finding, and not guessing, in getting at the real figures in unemployment. In England, the figures are published in the newspapers each week, while in the United States, we are only now learning officially what the employment figures were when the last government census was taken. Are we to wait ten more years until the government census gives us these figures again? Guessing is not the American way of doing things. Our last census figures showed 2,500,000 men out of work. This is equivalent to 5 per cent of all the men workers of the United States."

"If the unemployment situation is not improved in the coming winter, it will mean that the rest of us must carry the burden. We surely cannot allow American men, women and children to go hungry and cold. We must get control of the causes, but in the meantime, must hit upon some means of relief. Work in that direction is a divine law of life, just as labor is a basic law of life, laid down to us by the greatest of all workmen, our lord. Unemployment means that the moral law of the country is on the downgrade. We must wake up to the facts."

The 1931 district conference of Rotary International may be held at Menasha and Neenah. Proposal to entertain the conference is now under consideration by the clubs of Menasha and Neenah and a definite decision is expected to be forthcoming within the next week or ten days. The meeting would bring several thousand visitors to the Twin Cities for a period of three days. It is expected that the 1931 conference will be held in June.

MALAU PAROLED TO CHIEF FOR 2 YEARS

Neenah—William Malau of Neenah, appeared Thursday in circuit court at Oshkosh where he changed a plea of not guilty to guilty to a charge of defrauding Lyman J. Miller of Menasha out of $461.65.

Malau was to have been tried at the present term. On recommendation of District Attorney Frank Keefe, Judge Beglinger, suspended sentence for a period of two years and placed the defendant on probation to Chief of Police Charles Watts.

The court was informed Malau had agreed to make restitution to Miller, paying $100 now and the balance in monthly installments.

The alleged offense was committed in 1929, when Malau sold a house to Miller. After Miller had purchased the property, he found the Dunham Lumber company made claim for $461.65 for material used in the construction of the house. Mr. Miller paid $350 in settlement of this dispute. It was stated, and Malau will now pay Miller the $950 he expended.

Brooklyn And St. Louis Within Half Game Of Top

DAZZY VANCE IS STINGY, CUBS GET BUT 5 SAFE HITS

Cards Rally in Last Inning to Defeat New York Giants, 5 and 4

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. LOUIS—Brooklyn again was triumphant yesterday in the National league race and placed themselves only a half game behind the leading Cubs. The Robins made a clean sweep of their three game series with Chicago, as Dazzy Vance turned in a third successive five hit performance to give Brooklyn a 2 to 1 victory. The Cards, with Chick Hafey's first-inning home run as the deciding factor, again defeated the Giants 5 and 4.

As the Cubs moved today to the safer regions of Philadelphia and the Giants and Cards remained in New York for a final clash, the race shaped up this way.

W. L. Pct. Games To Chicago 80 59 .575 15
St. Louis 79 59 .572 15
Brooklyn 69 57.1 14
New York 77 55.4 15
Vance fanned 13 Cubs. Wilson's forty-eighth home run of the season, a clout over the right field wall in the seventh inning gave the Cubs their first run of the series. In the first inning, Glenn Wright smashed the ball into the left field bleachers after Herman had walked to give the Robins a head start that Chicago never overcame. Guy Bush, who allowed Brooklyn only eight hits in seven innings, was the victor.

HAFEE GETS HOMER
After Adams had singled and Frisch had walked in the opening inning, Hafey of the Cards made a home run. The Giants overcame the lead in the fifth inning and made another comeback in the seventh, but they failed in their third attempt after the Cards had scored their fifth run, leaving the bases filled when the game ended. Walker pitched for the Cards.

Pittsburgh's Pirates placed themselves 7 1/2 games behind first place by winning a tight game from the Boston Braves, 5 to 3, although they were outthrew 11-8, while the humble Phillies made it a clean sweep against Cincinnati by slugging out a final 15 to 7 victory.

Philadelphia Athletics, leaders of the American league, had a day of idleness and a half game was presented to them by their rivals from Washington and New York. The second place Senators dropped a second straight encounter to the St. Louis Browns the score being 7 to 4.

New York's Yankees all but dropped out of the race as the Cleveland Indians turned on them after two hitless games and hammered out a 9 to 5 victory behind the steady pitching of Clint Brown. The best of the Yankees can do now is to tie the Philadelphia if they win all their 15 games and the A's lose all 13 contests.

Ted Lyons, veteran Chicago hurler, went 12 innings in the remaining game of the season, defeating the Boston Red Sox, 4 to 2.

NEW YORK—In the matter of college football material West Point gives out as well as receives. As witness whereof let the fact be recorded that of the giant players who will shortly be surging to various Pacific coast campuses, the most gigantic is Joe Jans, who for a year or two stalked abroad upon the West Point plain like a mobile obelisk.

Jans, who weighs 245 pounds when he is trained down to a razor edge, transferred to the University of Oregon from the Army last year and this season will set out to win a tackle berth. While the big boy looked like a monolith among the Hudson highlands, he does not look so at

POCAN BEST LIKED MEMBER OF BELLES

Wins Watch in Popularity Contest; May Hurl Against Macks

Kimberly—Clarence Pocan, formerly a hurler for the Papermakers here, and who has been pitching winning ball for the Racine Belles of the State league, won a popularity contest sponsored by a Racine newspaper last week. Pocan received a $100 watch.

Dobbins, the Racine catcher was leading until a few days ago when Pocan's friends started a rush that ended with "Squaw" getting 6,357 votes as compared with 5,633 for the catcher. Third and fourth honors went to Eddie Corey, an outfielder and to another hurler named Edwards.

Pocan is expected to draw the pitching assignment for the Belles when Connie Mack brings his Athletics to town in a benefit game for St. Bonaventure academy.

LEVINSKY BEATS LOMSKI IN FIFTH

Chicago Fish Peddler Star of Benefit Bout; Petrolle Wins

Chicago—(P)—Up from Chicago's ghetto has come an ex-fish peddler named King Levinsky, who bears definite signs of getting somewhere as a light heavyweight fighter.

The King, idol of the west side, abandoned his fish cart for the ring a year ago. Last night, he made a deep bow in big league competition by knocking out Leo Lomski, the onetime assassin from Aberdeen, Wash. The knockout came in the fifth round of the first 10-rounder on the Stadium's benefit card for Little Patricia Harmon, daughter of the late Paddy Harmon, Stadium builder, who was penniless at the time of his tragic death two months ago.

The Aberdeen Pole, who never before had been knocked out and who until recently was ranked among the most prominent light heavyweights, took a terrific beating before going down for the full count in the fifth. He was knocked down six times in the first round, hit the floor three times in the second and was knocked sprawling three times in the fifth, the last time landing flat on his back.

The bout was listed as the semi-final to a 10-rounder between Billy Petrolle, the comeback "Fargo Express," and Tony Canzoneri, challenger for the Lightweight title, but it completely stole the show.

Petrolle, who came out of retirement after a nine-month layoff, scrambled up the lightweight situation by gaining a referee's decision over Canzoneri after ten mauling rounds.

A gate of approximately $45,000 left a profit of $10,000 for Patricia, the stadium builder's four-year-old daughter.

MILWAUKEE'S FIRST FIGHT CARD DRAWS 350

Milwaukee—(P)—Before a crowd of only 350 persons, Bobby O'Hara, Chicago last night won the decision over Jimmy Evans, Milwaukee, in a 10-round fight at the Auditorium. O'Hara weighed 148 and Evans 150.

Jackie Sharkey, Minneapolis, 125, won the decision from Johnny Ryan, Milwaukee, 124, in 10 rounds; John Deliaff, Milwaukee, 147, was awarded the decision over Tom Kieth, Chicago, 146, in four rounds; Al Alzone, Racine, 124, won the decision from Jimmy Cheek, Milwaukee, 128, in four rounds and Morrie Cohn, Milwaukee, 137, knocked out George Ryan, Milwaukee, 130, in the first round of their scheduled four rounds.

Jimmy McLarnin Hangs Knockout On Al Singer

NEW YORK—(P)—Jimmy McLarnin is piling up some sort of a record for whipping champions in the world of flatcuffs.

In every division from the flyweights to the welters, 23 year old Jimmy has bowled over seven champions, either before or during their reign but never has he won a championship, all of his victories being overweight affairs.

Champion number seven fell before Jimmy's cannonading last night in the Yankee stadium when Al Singer, king of the lightweights, followed in the ways of Pancho Villa, Fidel LaBarba, Kid Kaplan, Jackie Fields,

Appleton high school gridders, 50 strong completed three days of practice Thursday evening and are fast absorbing the information being handed out by Coach Joseph Shields.

The Orange will drill again Friday night and probably Saturday sometime.

Coach Shields' proteges are a week behind other valley conference schools and must get in as many workouts as soon as possible. Practice was started by the squad Tuesday night while other schools began the week previous and several have already started scrimmages.

New developments in grid circles so far are scarce. Laird, one of last season's veterans and a youngster counted upon to hold down one of the line positions is the season's first casualty with a cracked collar bone.

He probably will be on the shelf for a month but should be ready for the second or third conference game. Shields still has Appleton youths who are members of the University of Wisconsin squad helping to coach the various groups, Al Lietan continues to drill the guards and centers while last evening Harvey Kramhold worked with the tackles and ends.

Eddie Kotal who will have plenty of troubles of his own at Lawrence college beginning next Monday took care of a group of backfield candidates and sent them through a few exercises designed to improve foot work when carrying the ball.

Chicago—Billy Petrolle, Fargo, N. D., outpointed Tony Canzoneri, New York, (10); King Levinsky, Chicago, knocked out Leo Lomski, Aberdeen, Wash., (6); Kid Francis, Italy, outpointed Harry Forbes, Columbus, O. (3); Charley Retzlaff, Duluth, Minn., knocked out Pedro Lopez, Spain, (2).

Coach Nibs Price Looking for Victory Over Pop Warner's Team

BERKELEY, CAL.—(P)—Over at the base of the Berkeley Hills where University of California football teams have learned all about defense for the last ten years, a bunch of the boys are whooping it up with a new shift some extra ground formations and enough aerial offensive to make up what can be termed a fairly operative type of game.

C. M. "Nibs" Price, who took over the head coaching reins in 1926 this year will have practically chucked aside the old "kick and wait for breaks" system that prevailed at California for many seasons before.

Price has decided to step out for a few touchdowns.

The big job this year is to beat Stanford. Coach Price never has chalked up a win over his greatest rival—Coach Glen Warner of Stanford.

Four husky, experienced ball players form the nucleus for Coach Price's backfield threat. They average 150 pounds. Ed Griffiths, half back last season, has been switched to quarterback.

Two of last year's fullbacks have been made into halfbacks. They are Clarence Garrity, 189, and Joe Hinchings, 189, a 183-pounder. Ralston Gill, 190 pound first string fullback on the 1929 squad, remained in that position.

POLITICAL UNREST IN SOUTH AMERICA WON'T AFFECT U. S.

Point Out That American Investments in Southern Countries Are Safe

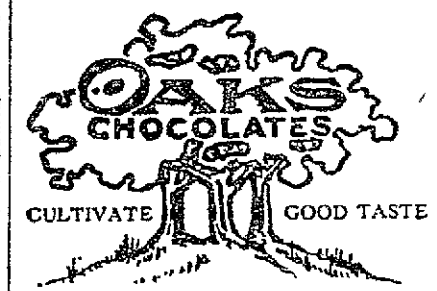

BY J. C. ROYLE
Copyright 1930 By Cons. Press.
Washington.—(CPA)—Political unrest in South and Central America is likely to affect American foreign trade unfavorably, but so far imports and exports to the southern hemisphere have not been checked. Also there is a general feeling among government officials that American investments, both in South American government securities and in business ventures in the Latin American countries, are in no way endangered. There is no chance that South American bonds will be repudiated, officials here say, and developments have shown a general care on the part of the successful revolutionists to protect American lives and property. The same is true also of English, German and Italian investments. It is obvious that financial considerations are more powerful as a controlling factor than the Monroe doctrine or any other political policy. It costs money to run governments and those who have taken over the reins of power realize that overt acts affecting American investments of England, Germany or Italy would shut off necessary credit and threaten the success of the movement they are sponsoring. American and British bankers have already joined in offering a loan to the Uruburu government in Argentina. E. C. Plummer, vice chairman of the U. S. Shipping board, declared today that he visualized no serious effect on American shipping growing out of the uprising in Latin America. Naval vessels are always in a position to rush to either coast of South America should American lives or property be endangered, but the extent of the political changes was not considered threatening and no additional naval activities are expected to be needed. American shipping lines are continuing full schedule operations.

In Brazil the moves which have taken place were anticipated, as a result of the big drop in coffee prices. Each side in the political situation there, however, is expected to use extreme care, especially in view of the fact that Brazil owes England large sums based on coffee and is dependent to no small degree for its purchasing power on its trade relations with the United States. It was by the use of money borrowed from English and American investors that Brazil was enabled to withhold coffee from an overburdened world market and for a long time to peg the price. The coffee situation is also a crucial one in 8 or 9 other Latin American countries. American investments in Brazil, according to government figures, range between $580,000,000 and $640,000,000, of which the larger portion is in government bonds. LARGE INVESTMENTS German, English and American investments are large in Bolivia, Peru and Argentina and in the last country the trade with Italy also is a prime factor. England is the main market for Argentine beef. The crops there also are factors in the wheat, corn and linseed markets. In Bolivia the British, German and American tin and non-ferrous metal mines in general are very extensive. Peru is dependent on the countries named for the disposal of copper nitrate and other products. The speed with which steps were taken by the new Peruvian government to check any danger to the Corro de Pasco mines, owned by American investors, showed the policy which is likely to be followed by all these nations in dealing with foreign owned properties. In no case has the nation affected by unrest ceased to be a "going concern." Revenues are coming in to the new governments as they did to the old. Disbursements are being made in a similar manner.

BEACH COATS NOW ARE WORN IN CITY

Wild Hues Are Replaced, However, by More Sober Colors

BY AILEEN LAMONT
Copyright 1930 by Cons. Press
New York.—The more than hip length coats of jersey and light wool, designed originally for beach wear, have proved so useful that they are being imported for city wear in the early autumn. Only more civilized. Instead of the wild hues and patterns, they are more likely to be beige, white, or dove gray, with possibly a bright scarf attached to the collar.

For the cool fall day, there's a coat dress of tweed or wool with a deep crepe de chine vestee in a darker shade. But, aha! when the coat dress is removed, the vestee isn't a vestee at all but a complete crepe de chine frock ensconced beneath the coat effect.

Though it is heralded as a black autumn, there is brown for those to whom black is not attractive or becoming. Brown in almost every imaginable shade, but especially a clear brown much like undiluted coffee and also a gray brown verging on taupe. The latter is seen especially in felt hats trimmed with a band of darker brown silk.

My Fellow Citizens:

Nine months ago I was appointed Sheriff of Outagamie County by the Governor of the State of Wisconsin. I made no application for the appointment—I did not seek the office then. When it was offered to me I accepted it and promised that I would faithfully and conscientiously discharge the various duties. My under-sheriff Ed. Lutz, my deputies and myself have done our level best to make good that promise.

I would like to be elected Sheriff now. I respectfully solicit your vote. It has been impossible to make an extensive personal campaign and meet and shake the hands of many voters because there has been so much work in the Sheriff's office that the entire force has been working continuously. It would have been neither right nor fair to have neglected the office in the interest of a personal campaign. I feel that you will approve this course.

Should you elect me, I promise that I shall in complete honesty, without fear or favor, fairly and impartially discharge the duties of the office.

Respectfully,
JOHN F. LAPPEN,
Sheriff, Outagamie County.

New London—A hearing on the proposed relocation of Highway 55 is to be held at the Waupaca court house on Oct. 1. Lions and Rotarians will send Ralph Hanson and H. B. Cristy, who at that time will put forth efforts to retain the road, with a few dangerous curves straightened out, in its present form. HOOVER AND KOHLER SCORED IN SPEECH BY SENATOR "BOB"

United States Senator Talks to Group at Chilton for Nearly 2 Hours

Chilton — Senator Robert LaFollette addressed about 200 people on the lawn of Hotel Chilton Thursday afternoon, his address lasting about one and one half hours. The senator, who was evidently hoarse from the effects of the campaign for his brother, emulated his illustrious father in removing his coat shortly after he began speaking and rolling up his shirt sleeves. The audience was composed largely of farmers. He was introduced by the Rev. Wm. Arpke.

Mr. LaFollette who opened his talk with an appeal to voters to go to the polls at primary election day, spent a large part of his time in denunciations of President Hoover and Governor Kohler, referring to the latter as the multimillionaire plumbing manufacturer from Kohler. He spoke at length of the amount of money alleged to have been spent in the Kohler campaign two years ago and of the moneyed interests back of the governor.

The speaker laid the blame for the present economic depression largely to the "Stalwart" party, especially to Hoover and Kohler. He maintained that Kohler had failed to keep campaign pledges, and stated that highway workers are, on an average, paid less than they were several years ago.

The senator cited some of the legislation passed by the "Progressives," in the interests of the common people, mentioning particularly the federal income and inheritance tax laws, the increase in the powers of the interstate commerce commission, and the seaman's act. He also made the claim that the railroads had enjoyed the most prosperous years in their history from 1920 to 1930.

He lauded the administration of former Governor Blaine, telling how he tried to revise the income tax laws. He pleaded for the nomination of Philip LaFollette, stating that the governorship should not be "knocked down on the auction block to the highest bidder."

In closing, Mr. LaFollette stated that Wisconsin is at the political crossroads, on the one hand the multimillionaire supported by the moneyed interests, leading to the killing of the spirit of democracy in Wisconsin; and on the other hand young Philip LaFollette, who promises economic remedies for all the problems which now confront the state, leading to the highway of the us, leading to the highway of the true democracy of Jefferson and Lincoln. He also pleaded for the election of a cabinet in sympathy with the aims and policies of Philip LaFollette.

A marriage license was issued this week to Matthew Kerns of the town of Chilton and Miss Lauretta McKeever of Hortonville. The marriage will take place Tuesday at Stephentown.

PROTECT WORKERS FROM WRONGS, IS GOVERNOR'S PLEA

Right of Protection of State Government Is Theirs, He Says

Milwaukee — "Workers in industry, transportation and agriculture are entitled to the protection of a government against unequal and unfair forces," Gov. Walter J. Bauer declared in a speech before a group of factory workers here today. "Winning a living with their hands is the lot of the overwhelming majority of city residents," he continued. "Each worker has at his disposal only a limited number of working hours in any year. Not to be able to market those services, because of economic depression, because of illness or injury, means an irreparable damage has been done. The useful time and services can never be regained. Unemployment is just as surely an unfair burden on the working man and women of the nation as are injuries due to the hazards of industry. The workers for that reason are reasonably entitled to a fair protection. Economic depressions as they have occurred periodically through the history of our industrial civilization cannot be laid at the door of any one of the factors which make up our complex economic picture. The powerful engine of production ever so often gets out of balance, people cease to buy, demand drops off and production falls off. After a period of inertia the whole process is once more repeated.

"Until the complex causes underlying this cycle of depressions are more clearly understood little can be done by any one factor to control them.

"It is certain, however, that the burden today unfairly falls upon the workers who are least able to carry it.

"In the past decade the company with which I am associated has to some extent solved this problem. We have recognized that the worker cannot and should not pay a penalty for actions and reactions far beyond his control. By building up stocks we have always kept our men employed although at times this has presented extremely difficult problems.

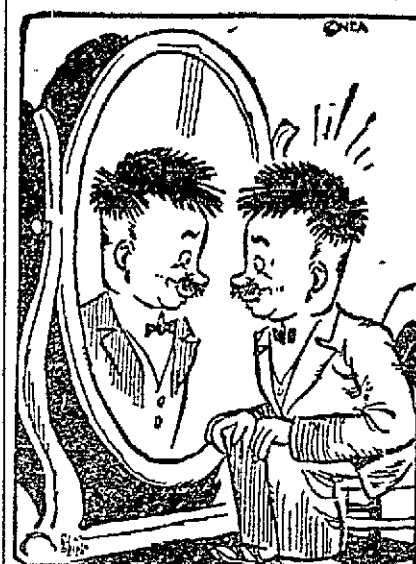

"Moreover, wages have always been maintained. This principle must be the underlying guide to any solution of the unemployment problem which we reach.

"Shorter hours, fewer working days, and unemployment insurance all are worthy of consideration as possible solutions to this problem. But in any such solution, our high American standard of wages and living must certainly be maintained.

"The worker as a single individual is sometimes forced to cope with power unfairly large. If those powers be unfriendly, if they be disposed to deal honestly, the worker should, and must, have the protection of the state. Wise legislation, fair commissions, and friendly unprejudiced courts can do much to aid him against selfishness or reaction.

"Management owes a responsibility to the men who work under it.

Sez Hugh:

SOMETHING OVER TRIFLES IS SOMETIMES JUST THINKING ABOUT ONES SELF.

The state owes a responsibility to the citizens who work within its borders. These obligations are increasingly being recognized and must not be allowed to languish. "Wisconsin's government during the past two years has recognized that obligation. Much legislation of value to working men and women was enacted. Public works were promptly released to aid the unemployed. A committee to study this problem and to report recommendations looking toward a solution was appointed by me early in the depression.

REED'S ATTACK ON "RADIO TRUST" TO GO ON AIR AGAIN

This Time, However, Independent Will Broadcast Record of Speech

BY ROBERT MACK
Copyright 1930 By Cons. Press.
Washington —(CPA)—The fiery attack of former Senator "Jim" Reed, of Missouri, against what he described as the "radio trust," is going on the air again, but via the medium of "canned music."

More than 100 independent stations have promised to broadcast a phonograph record of the former senator's speech on the "March of Monopoly" which was so rudely interrupted by what appeared to be a spurious SOS alarm while it was being delivered last summer over a nationwide hook-up of the Columbia Broadcasting system. The speech was shut off to listeners in New York's metropolitan area by the reported SOS, while the former senator was in the midst of his vitriolic condemnation of the Radio Corporation of America.

With characteristic celery, Oswald F. Schuette, the executive secretary of the radio protective association, which has waged an incessant battle against the R. C. A., has lined up independent stations throughout the country to rebroadcast those portions of senator Reed's address related to monopoly.

Stating that 115 independent stations will rebroadcast the record, Mr. Schuette said that the "resulting broadcast is expected to be the largest hookup of its kind that has ever been made."

Mr. Reed's speech was made from Sedalia, Mo., and was in the nature of a political address. As chief counsel of the Grigsby-Grunow company, of Chicago, however, his address was sponsored by that company, and the Columbia network was obtained for the broadcast by the radio Manufacturing company. Grigsby-Grunow has developed as the arch-enemy of the R. C. A., in recent months, combating it on vital patent issues in the courts, while the R. C. A. has filed suit against the Chicago company alleging infringement of tube patents. "The record," said Mr. Schuette, "is the result of the fact that when Former Senator Reed broadcast his speech on 'Monopolies' over the Columbia chain last summer, a fictitious SOS Alarm closed down the Atlantic coast stations. By peculiar coincidence, the SOS alarm was heard only by a Radiomarine Corporation operator, and came at the moment when Senator Reed had reached the section of his speech devoted to the so-called radio trust. A record was thereupon made of this section of his speech and offered to independent broadcasting stations throughout the country."

The requests for the record came from 41 states, Mr. Schuette said. Nine Texas stations are rebroadcasting the address, while seven in Washington, Pennsylvania and Illinois, five each in Indiana and Ohio, and four each from Florida, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin are to put it on the air.

PROFESSOR PRAISES HIGH SCHOOL DEBATES

Madison —(AP)—The high school debating platform is an important foundation in the structure of persuasive speech, a training vital to success, according to Prof. A. T. Weaver of the University of Wisconsin speech department. He expressed his view in the current issue of the Forensic News-Letter, publication of the Wisconsin High School Forensic association, comprising 258 state high schools.

A mind may be packed with facts, he says, but without the power of effective speech a man will live "a clumsy, ineffective and isolated life." Debating imposes self-discipline, appends the pupil's information and offers a training toward life problems from proper perspectives.

Every doughnut turns out perfect when only a few cooked at a time. Every cup of Hills Bros. Coffee is brewed evenly by roasting only a few pounds at a time.

HILLS BROS.' patented, continuous process—Controlled Roasting—has a definite advantage over any bulk-roasting method in that it prevents variation in flavor. What's more, the flavor which is developed in the famous blend has a richness that you won't find in any other coffee.

This rare coffee, so abundant in distinctive flavor and aroma, is sealed in vacuum tins as fast as it comes from the roasters. Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is completely removed at the time of packing and kept out by this vacuum pack. So-called air-tight tins cannot keep coffee fresh.

Don't let another day go by without trying Hills Bros. Coffee. Ask for it by name and look for the Arab on the can. Sold by grocers everywhere.

An Open Letter to the KING...

DEAR KING:

Please do not be offended because we are letting the public read your mail. By all the tenets of statecraft an official statement of this kind deserves more secrecy than we seem prone to give it. But remember that this is an "open letter" and open letters must be printed.

Of course, there are kings and kings. For instance, there's the sovereign with the hither and yon complex whose home is in a suitcase. Or the careless majesty who is never quite sure just where his next wife is coming from—whose marital activities seem to make good reading. Or the regal fashion-plate who parts company with his gallant mounts in the most abrupt and sudden manner. But the royalty whose life is less complex, whose sovereign realm is fortunately more limited, who is really king, is the one to whom this brief epistle is addressed. That king is YOU.

Your kingship comes with the twilight, when you return to the privacy of your bailiwick, in which your will is supremacy itself. And when you join the family circle, and ease into your armchair, there's just one thing more that's needed to complete your truly regal enjoyment of life. That need is met by The Milwaukee Journal—a fully satisfying newspaper.

The features discussed below typify the reading opportunity that awaits you and your family in the daily and Sunday Journal—Wisconsin's great metropolitan newspaper for Wisconsin people.

Regal enjoyment is in store for you. Many new features are soon to begin in the daily and Sunday Milwaukee Journal for the reading pleasure of yourself and family.

LUMBER DEALERS SAY BUSINESS WAS POOR THIS SUMMER

Amount of Building and Repairing Fell Far Below Last Year

Kaukauna—Little building has been done in Kaukauna and vicinity this summer according to local lumber dealers, who claim that the summer was one of the poorest business years experienced in a number of years. Only a few houses were erected in the city with but several being erected in the vicinity of the city.

It was expected this spring that there would be much repair work and remodeling done in the city, although little building was expected to be done. Only a small amount of repairing was done and most of it consisted of repairs, which were absolutely necessary according to the dealers. Several business places had some remodeling done.

Carpenters report that there was an unusually small amount of carpenter work done during the summer. The usual number of small sheds and garages erected during the summer months were missing this summer, they stated.

Farmers in this vicinity have done a smaller amount of building and repairing, the lumber dealer claim. Last summer there was a large amount of building and repairing done on the farms near here. A severe windstorm this summer damaged many barns and smaller buildings on the farms near here and not all of them have been rebuilt and repaired. Many of the farmers had repaired only what they needed, leaving the rest go unfixed.

FARMERS SPEND MANY DOLLARS ON FAKE REMEDIES

State Points Out There Is No Drug or Remedy for Contagious Abortion

Madison—Fake cures for contagious abortion in cattle are still coaxing many dollars from the Wisconsin farmer's pocket. Not only is there no known drug or remedy which will cure contagious abortion, but federal and state laws have prohibited the use of such quack medicines, according to Dr. Wisnicky, director of livestock sanitation of the state department of agriculture and markets.

A vast amount of experimental work has been done by agricultural colleges and the federal department of agriculture, but at present the unanimous opinion of all authorities is that there is no cure for the disease by the use of drugs or various combinations of drugs. Following the passage of the livestock remedy act, the manufacturers of so-called abortion cures are now unable to state that their products cure abortion. To avoid this, however, unscrupulous manufacturers are sending out agents to sell directly to farmers, Dr. Wisnicky states. The high-pressure salesmen make extravagant claims regarding the efficacy of the remedy, although the package is unlabelled, and farmers who purchase the product then have no tangible evidence on which to bring suit for damages.

One so-called remedy which is being sold in the state is what is known as "Bowman's," and is produced in Minnesota. The product is not registered with the department of agriculture and markets and is being sold contrary to law. The federal department of agriculture has collected various samples of this so-called remedy and after chemically analyzing it, has found that the material consists of brown granular material made mostly of brown sugar and crude wood creosote.

An analysis made by the Wisconsin department of agriculture and markets chemists indicates also that the remedy is chiefly brown sugar with a small addition of a creosote product.

In spite of such fakery, a leading

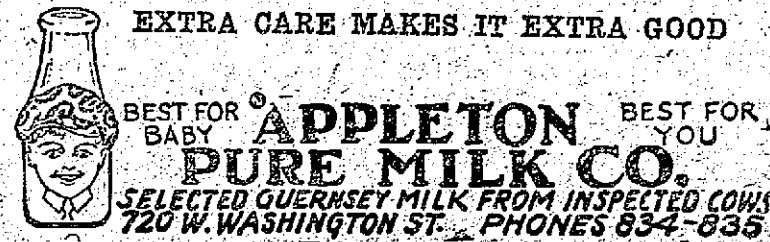

Wisconsin farm paper recently ran an editorial declaring itself as—"not only playing fair with Wisconsin farmers, but we are rendering them a very great service in advertising the abortion remedy because the remedy does just what is claimed for it. It cures contagious abortion according to the blood test. I know quite well that the veterinary profession, as well as the veterinary department of the Wisconsin agricultural college and the veterinarians of all other agricultural colleges claim that there is no remedy for abortion, but they are mistaken."

NEW YORK HEALTH DEPARTMENT OPENS WAR ON RACKETEERS

publishes Correct Food Prices to Let People Know Truth

BY LEMUEL F. PARTON
Copyright 1930, by Cons. Press.
New York (CPA)—For the first time since the beginning of the unbroken serial story of graft, extortion, violence and plunder in the cities, the health administration of a great city has vigorously asserted its right to move against racketeers in combatting the health due to the system of mutual extortion which, roughly estimated, takes a toll of about $1,000 a week from New York's food consumers.

Dr. Shirley W. Wynne, health commissioner of New York city, has mobilized his staff of 250 food inspectors, utilized the radio to wake the town and begun the issue of daily "fair price" bulletins to keep the public informed on what food cost to and to make it possible for burghers and housewives to estimate how much the "food bill" is stealing. This is being done without usurpation of police authority, the method being to turn the matter to the district attorney and the evidence of racketeering as it is obtained.

While the police in no city ever do notable headway against either racketeers or gougers in the more ultimate trade channels, they will, in this instance, find themselves aided with abundant evidence, on which they can go as far as they like.

SPREAD KNOWLEDGE
Dr. Wynne's main reliance, however, is in the hope of spreading information and stiffening the backbone of food dealers and housewives so that they will no longer pay bute.

"That seems to me to be the only way to end racketeering," said Dr. Wynne today, "and now is a good time to do it. If business men would yield to extortion, it would be in 24 hours. Particularly in cases of prosperity, a retailer, for instance, submits to graft, fearing trouble and thinking that he can get the excess charge on to the consumer. When times are hard, unscrupulous first feel the pinch, and they can be stirred up to demand higher prices. With his business sagging, the retailer may be in a less stable mood when the extortionist comes around, and it is possible to run up a fighting mood in a community which will put the crooks to business. That's what we are trying to do. We are, of course, a law enforcing body, but when we find the health and vitality of a city lowered by the inability of its numbers to get sufficient nourishing food, we are entitled to find out why, report to the police and tell the public about it."

"Food racketeering marks the discovery by the gougers of a soundness principle which is common to legitimate business. Instead of taking large amounts of money from a few people, take a little money from a great many people. That naturally brings them to the field of commodities of the most universal daily use—milk, eggs, fruits, vegetables and other food products."

START ON MILK
They began first on milk. Up to a year, they were taking about 10,000 a year in tribute from New York milk dealers, chiefly through fake organizations which had nothing to give its members. In the past, trade organizations employed nest and conscientious lawyers in conducting their business on a basis of honest competition. As shady tactics crept in, respectable lawyers dropped out and "strong-arm" men came in—useful in conniving such business as shipping a few jars of milk into a milk can, or a few tablets which turn the milk sour. There was always the menace

POLICE FIND NO TRACE OF MISSING NEW YORK JUDGE

Despite All Efforts No One Has Inkling of Whereabouts of Justice

BY LEMUEL F. PARTON
Copyright 1930 By Cons. Press.
New York (CPA) About 25,000 persons disappear in New York city every year and the bureau of missing persons, under the police department, finds 90 per cent of them. Today, the thirty-fourth day since the disappearance of Justice Joseph Force Crater, of the New York Supreme court, not only the bureau but every other public agency has failed to uncover the slightest clue in explanation of the disappearance of the judge's present whereabouts.

Not in all the sprawling tomes of drug store fiction, not in all the police annals of Manhattan or in the complete scroll of stage melodrama has there been a mystery so inexplicable as this latest true tale of "Bagdad on the Subway."

DISAPPEARS
Justice Crater dropped out of sight just a few hours after United States Attorney Tuttle had subpoenaed the cancelled pay checks of Judge William Allen of the nineteenth assembly district, in which District Justice Crater was a Tammany leader.

A man more vulnerable than Justice Crater would have been quickly linked with the swiftly widening and deepening implications of the scandal in the judiciary and other New York city departments. But when the news of the disappearance was first published a week ago, there was only the most delicate hint that the discovery might be in any way related to the dubious and troubled state of city politics. Subsequent deductions have been bolder, but not only Justice Crater's intimate friends but those who knew him casually have insisted that it was impossible to connect the disappearance in any way with the current scandals.

Captain John A. Ayres, head of the bureau of missing persons, said today that the search had been so far without the slightest result. He explained that the bureau had taken

New York (CPA)—The New York World says an examination of the safe deposit box of Joseph Force Crater, missing supreme court justice, has resulted in the discovery of securities worth $75,000.

At the time of Justice Crater's disappearance on Aug. 6, he had virtually depleted his two bank accounts by withdrawing $5,000 and this was generally believed the extent of his wealth.

Discovery of the securities was made by friends who pointed out that Justice Crater, had he wanted to do so, could have realized many times the sum he took with him.

Meanwhile, police pressed their search for the missing justice in at least three places in the Adirondacks. The most promising clue came from the manager of a public hunting lodge at Racquette Lake who said two men, one of whom he was "positive" was the missing justice, had stopped at his lodge Aug. 30, and part of Aug. 31. Two detectives are trailing these two men.

up the case only a few days ago, as it can act only upon the request of relatives or by order of the police department. Mrs. Crater, remaining at the family summer home, had made no such request and when news of the disappearance was published the police denied they had known the justice was missing. It was later learned that they had been informed and had conducted a perfunctory, if not diligent search. The police now say they have done everything possible and are barred from further effort by their inability to subpoena bank books and records. Today New York newspapers are editorially demanding a grand jury investigation, in which the district attorney would be able to procure all necessary records.

Justice Crater, appointed to the supreme court by Governor Roosevelt to fill an unexpected term, was chosen at a time of rumors and public misgivings about affairs in city and state courts, and even the newspapers attacking the Tammany administration pushed the appointment. Widely and favorably known, the justice was never under a shadow of suspicion. Then he drew $5,100, his entire account, from the bank, removed, and either secreted or destroyed, his personal papers, outfitted himself with a new wardrobe, and left the bench, his home, his club, and became just one more "missing person" on the police blotter. It is unquestionable that the police withheld news of the disappearance. One incident of a bewildering and daily accumulating series of mysteries and scandals in New York public affairs, it seems doubtful whether the story of the missing judge will ever be brought to either a happy or tragic ending.

Your Birthday WHAT TOMORROW MEANS TO YOU "Virgo"

If September 13th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9 a. m. to 10:15 a. m., from 2 p. m. to 3:40 p. m., and 7 p. m. to 8 p. m. The danger periods are from 11 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. and 9 p. m. to 10 p. m.

The astrological aspects for this date are materially beneficial, although there will be experienced mental and spiritual depression. The evening hours favor love and romance—guard your heart, and do not declare your affections! Mind less acute and efficient than usual.

Children born on this September 13th will soon indicate that their brains are real thinking machines, and they will desire to exercise their own tastes and will form their own ideas and opinions. They will never be anybody's shadow or echo, and will have strong, positive personalities. The biggest character asset with which you were born is your courage, and Samuel Johnson once said: "Unless a man has this virtue, he has no security for preserving any other." Courage never appears alone, and you possess its accompanying co-attributes—self-denial, self-confidence, assertiveness, energy and integrity of purpose. You are one of those enviable people who get things done. You are not fate's football; you have always played center-forward yourself. Your vision shapes an idea, and your

DRY AGENT RESUMES STAND IN DEFENSE

Denies Government Charge That He Accepted Bribes
from Bootleggers

Seattle (AP)—Roy C. Lyle, former northwest prohibition administrator, was called to resume the stand in his own defense in the prohibition bribery conspiracy trial here today.

Testimony by Lyle yesterday followed the same general trend of other defense evidence, which was a denial of the government contention that Lyle and other defendants, William M. Whitney, his chief assistant; Early Corwin, and R. L. Fryant, former agents, had accepted bribes from rum runners and permitted wholesale importations of liquor to western Washington.

Lyle accepted full responsibility for employing as a dry agent Alfred M. Hubbard, principal prosecution witness in the present case. Hubbard was employed, Lyle said, as an undercover agent to work with rum runners. Senator Wesley L. Jones, whose name has been mentioned frequently in connection with Hubbard's employment, was consulted about the appointment only in an advisory capacity, Lyle said, because of the unusualness of employing as agent a person already involved in liquor charges.

Hubbard has testified he acted as an intermediary between bootleggers and prohibition officials in the collection and distribution of protection money, allegations which the defense denies.

Two former dry agents, E. R. Small and W. H. Kinnard, testified yesterday that instead of shielding bootleggers, as the prosecution has charged, the prohibition heads were constantly insisting every effort be made to trap the leaders of rum running organizations.

SENATOR PINE FIGHTS MEYER CONFIRMATION

Oklmulgee, Okla. (AP)—Opposition to confirmation by the United States senate of Eugene Meyer, Jr., New York, as a member of the federal reserve board was announced here by Senator W. B. Pine, Republican, who resides here. Senator Pine said he would make a formal protest.

Senator Pine said he based his opposition on the ground that the position should be filled by a member either from the tenth or eleventh federal reserve district. He also claimed that Meyer is an "internationalist."

The senator alleged that administration of the act by men with viewpoints similar to that of Meyer "has resulted in special privileges to international bankers by giving preferred status to the credit in which they deal." The farmer, under the law as now administered, is without credit, he said.

A NICE GIRL COMES TO TOWN

By Maymie Greis

Chapter 27
ABOUT-FACE
MARY LOU was miserably uncomfortable that night at the Savoy, Brynmor had been thoughtful about plans for the evening, but Mary Lou tried in vain to be grateful.
Brynmor raised his voice after they had finished dinner. Mary Lou had no idea how long he had been talking.
"You certainly surprised me when you told me about you and Titherington."
"Did I?" She managed to divert her mind, momentarily, from her private trend of thought.
"I suppose you found you didn't like him so well after he came back."
"Something like that." Why wouldn't he stop talking about that? She was ready to scream.
"I know, because I realize now that's the way it was between Clarence and me - just infatuation. And I was fairly convinced from the beginning that you didn't love Titherington. Yet I'll admit he is attractive in some ways."
"Generous of you," Mary Lou laughed.
"Look here, do be serious Mary Lou." Brynmor obviously was frustrated.
"I'm all attention."
"I knew it wasn't a genuine affair," he resumed. "Not the sort of romance we had in the summer."
"No," Mary Lou admitted. "It wasn't like that."
"I'm glad you feel the same way about it as I do, Mary Lou." He hesitated. "Because we've been seeing - quite a lot of each other lately, and I was wondering - please don't think me conceited - whether that had anything to do with your breaking the engagement with him."
Mary Lou didn't reply. The supposition was too preposterous. Brynmor misconstrued her silence.
"Don't answer, if you don't want to, dear." His voice had dropped to the husky note that had thrilled her last summer.
"But I want you to know that I - I love you, Mary Lou. Underneath everything, it's been you all along. Clarence was only an interlude. I suppose all men have them at some time or other. What I feel for you is deeper, more lasting. . . . Mary Lou, do you - do you feel like marrying me, dear?"
She blinked at him. Mary Brynmor? Was he mad? She had an almost uncontrollable desire to laugh in his face. Yet, when the first shock had passed, she began to wonder.
"You needn't answer at once, darling," Brynmor urged. "Take your time and think it over. I'm afraid it has been - rather a shock."
"Yes, rather," she admitted. "Let's dance, Brynmor."
The after-theater crowd already had arrived, but a few latecomers were straggling through the door.
"Two more hours," Mary Lou thought desperately. "I can't very well go before. Brynmor will think me ungrateful."
The dance ended, and they drifted back to their table. Already Brynmor's grip on her arm was slightly possessive.
"I'd love to startle him by telling him what I really think of him," Mary Lou thought spitefully. "Yet in the end I suppose I'll take him. Women usually do the sensible thing - and spend the rest of their lives regretting it."
Just then she glanced across to the stairs that led down to the dance floor. Immediately she knew why she never could become resigned to marrying Brynmor. For there, leaning indolently against the railing, surveying the crowd with a bored, cynical smile, was Tony - incredible Tony.
Apparently Tony was waiting for someone - Gwendolyn, Carruthers, of course. Mary Lou thought of the pink dress - but perhaps Gwendolyn hadn't worn it. She imagined Gwendolyn's face raised to Tony's, her red head fitted into the curve of Tony's shoulder, where her head belonged. . . . She drew a sharp breath.
"Brynmor, I've been thinking it over. . . . The wedding is on."
She was only dimly aware that Brynmor was leaning toward her, his face eager and flushed. She only faintly conscious that hands were gripping hers.
"That's marvelous, darling. So marvelous I don't know what to say."
Her eyes still were fixed on Gwendolyn who hadn't appeared. Let her come - now. Mary Lou's curved in determination was prepared.
She watched Tony descend stairs slowly. He looked at for an empty table.
The head waiter was about to lead her to a table, when spotted Mary Lou. He came to them, grinning, exclaiming "Mary Lou, this is great."
Brynmor muttered something, der his breath. Mary Lou smiled. "May I join you?" queried. "I hate to eat alone. Oh, hello, tamore, hope I'm not intruding."
Brynmor's expression said Tony was very much the mistress of yours. Brynmor remarked that he must make some of cordiality.
"That's ancient history," Tony smiled. "The past counts."
Mary Lou felt something cold in the place where her should have been. Didn't she count with Tony at all?
"I thought you were to Gwendolyn out tonight," couldn't resist mentioning it.
"Gwendolyn? So I did. But went home after the show. seemed rather fussed about frock not having arrived."
Mary Lou smiled.
"You mean you didn't invite here?"
"That's it, if you must know," Tony chuckled. "Wise kid."
From the moment Tony joined them, Brynmor was a victim that Mary Lou had slipping out of his grasp in anger against an uncomfortable effort to recapture her after he suggested that they dance sprang up with readiness.
Tony sat alone, wondering Gwendolyn had managed to him so utterly as she had in his tonight.
He began to feel that Mary had treated him rather badly. Couldn't they have continued together, the same as they had, fore he went away? Surely he as amusing as this fellow was more.
When they returned to the table, he leaned across to Tony, trying to keep triumphant from his voice.
"I say, Titherington, I'd like to know. Mary Lou and I are gaged."
Mary Lou turned pale. She opened her mouth to protest, decided against it. What was use? He had to know some "when?" Tony exclaimed, started to laugh.
"What's the joke, Titherington?" Brynmor inquired abruptly.
"The whole situation," Tony smiled. "Mary Lou's sitting between the dead corpse of one man and the living body of another."
"I'm glad you can take it that."
"How else should I take it, chap?" Tony asked airily. "Congratulations and all that sort thing."
Clearly it depended on some to straighten out the situation, hand did its best. A worst-bursting forth suddenly into a light that had been popular the night before. They were singing it.
"Let's pretend that I love you. Let's pretend that you love me. Then all the world. Will paradise be. We can have our fun. Cupid on the run. No heartbreaks when you have proved that you're unf." Tony sprang to his feet, a rapt look in his mouth.
"Dance this, Mary Lou," he commanded, just as he had commanded at Jay's party the night before. Tony obeyed.
And inevitably, when Tony commanded, Mary Lou obeyed. (Copyright, 1930, Maymie Greis)
Does Tony love Mary Lou, a girl? Tomorrow he is joined in realizing that he does.

ION DOLLARS OW INVESTED IN RADIO APPARATUS

stry as Whole Passes
st Decade Mark; Tre-endous Growth

BY ROBERT MACK
Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press
Shington—The turn of radio's decade as an essential industry, and a market in apparatus alone will surpass the stupendous figure of $1,000,000,000.
Broadcasting and the related fields entertainment, science and industry owe their existence to radio less than ten years ago.
In an industrial turnover this of $1,140,000,000. This is the estimate of Former Federal Radio Commissioner O. H. Caldwell for the radio market, which embraces all pursuits based on the radio tube and the photo-electric eye, and which fundamentally radio.

Radio receiving and transmitting apparatus, the talking movies, which radio principles, communication and audio apparatus, such as address systems, as well as the radio tube and photo-electric eye have been put, are the elements which comprise the electronic industry.
Vistas of industry and science being opened almost daily by scientific utilitarianism of industry. Mr. Caldwell says are the approaches to the human mind yet devised by man.
Receiving sets, naturally, are the single factor in this tremendous new industry. Mr. Caldwell, in his new radio publication, "Electronics," estimates an annual sale of 3, 500,000 sets representing a business of $405,000,000. The tube business, for installations in new sets and replacements is computed at $217,000, 000, of which $187,000,000 represents receiving set tubes, and the remaining $30,000,000 transmitting tubes used by broadcasting stations and in industry.

The talking rank second only to fundamental radio in annual business, according to Mr. Caldwell.
With an estimated turnover annually of $150,000,000, he points out it has a market in 22,000 theatres and 90 sound recording studios in the United States, plus 38,000 theatres abroad. And 95 per cent of the foreign playhouses have not yet been wired for sound, he emphasizes, presents a fertile field for export business.

NEEDED IN TALKIES
In the production of talking movies, the microphone and the vacuum tube play the vital parts, for the sound apparatus is nothing more than wired and recorded radio.

Audio equipment represents $130,
000,000 in annual revenue, Mr. Caldwell concludes. This is composed of annual sales of 1,200 new audio and public address systems, 20,000 new automatic musical instruments, 600, 000 radio-phonograph combinations,
and the maintenance of installations.
The oldest branch of radio, the communications field, contributes about $90,000,000 to the annual electronic turnover. Use of tubes and photo electric cells in the manufacture of apparatus for miscellaneous machine control, X-ray machines, the automatic levelling of elevators at floors, sorting, counting, alarm systems, and other general industrial applications, accounts for some $150, 000,000 in annual revenue, Mr. Caldwell estimates.

STOCKS RALLY, GIVE BANK MART UPWARD SLIP, PRICES RISE

Special Operation for Advance Converges Upon
Utilities

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Special Financial Editor
New York (AP)—Bulls rallied forces to give the stock market upward tilt at the end of the day, as they done for the three weeks.

Special operations for the advanced converging upon the utilities, embraced several of the merchandise, food and miscellaneous manufacturing issues. Although the at of public participation which had coaxed back into the stock market has been meagre enough, special traders knew that the advance must close the week with an advance, and speculative confidence will weaken before Monday.
The market was inclined to sag time in the morning, but the week was turned by midday. American Water Works, American Power and Light, National Power and port, Worthington, Gillette, Silver, F. W. Grant, Inter-department stores, etc. to gained about one to two points. International Telephone, Car-Published, Vanadium, Auto and Eastman advanced about

3. Higher fliers were Interna-
Business Machines, and New-steel, up 6 and more. Case, however, dropped a few points, and Sears was under pressure.
The move in the utilities was heard considerable gossip circles about a big merchandising arranged by the Electric and Share interests. This has been heard off and
and out so often that it doesn't much impression any more,
still wall street would not be
be if the bond and share propers were eventually unified.
The merchandising shares were d by the August report of Atlantic and Pacific, showing a high record, about 4 per cent
August of 1929, and the statement of the management that all ind to look for continued im-ment during the autumn, and the August report of the period of its 13-month calenhowever, showed a drop of 14 cent from last year. A consid-number of merchandising organs, however, are reporting de-improvement, and several
s having strong market spon-
in were advanced substantially.
the whole, the day's news was business. Against further im-ment in stock and gas prices,
in black and gas prices,
the share market was not obbers. Balancing recent retail the price of cuts, was further ess in wholesale gasoline at
on. In the non-ferrous metals, st copper statistics were again factory, showing further pil-of refiners stocks. Although producers are still asking 11-a pound, few sales over 100
have been made lately. Silver, however, was a little firmer, the heaviness of the meat was used as a basis for fur-the selling of the meat implements broke several points during morning, momentarily unsettling ent list.

HOG PRICES ADVANCE FOLLOWING SETBACK

Eastern Shippers Rush Market and Make Huge Sales,
Reports Say

Chicago (AP)—Hog worked into higher ground after a temporary back, initial transactions following gains of 10-20c as compared with the average of the previous day. Receipts of 13,000 carried 4,000 billed straight to packers and 6,000 state hogs were on hand. Eastern shippers bought freely paying 10.85-11.15
for desirable light and medium weight butchers.

Only 15,000 cattle were offered locally and less than 8,000 in the eleven leading markets. Native cattle from nearby points, largely of secondary and inferior quality made up the fresh run and packers received 250
head of native on through billings.
Generally steady prices were quoted.
Early reports showed packers received 1,375 lambs on direct consignment, with more due to arrive on later trains out of the fresh supply of 14,000. Shippers took more than 33,000 lambs during the first three days this week out of 86,000 received during the corresponding period.
Strength has been maintained in this branch of the trade all week.

ATHLETES ON HIGH SCHOOL TEAMS MAY RECEIVE INSURANCE

Wisconsin Interscholastic Association to Consider Plan at Meet

Marinette—(P)—Accident benefits for school boy athletes may be paid by the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic association if its members signify their approval of a plan announced yesterday by Paul F. Neversman, secretary-treasurer of the association.

The plan, devised by the board of control of the association is said to be unique in high school athletic bodies and, if passed at the annual meeting of the organization in November will be retroactive to Sept. 1 of this year.

The board said it has been considering athletic benefits for sometime and chose to inaugurate the scheme as an experiment rather than waiting for a year or two while statistics were gathered.

"The benefit service would be open to all member schools and be one which would be distributed according to actual need for such service," the board said in its preliminary statement. "It would take a financial worry off the secondary schools as well as from parents of the boys in the schools. The law does not authorize school boards to pay for accidents to students enrolled in the schools under their jurisdiction and there is no private company which does any considerable amount of work along this line."

"The service will care only for boy athletes, who have received consent of their parents to compete in interschool competition. Girls will not derive benefit under the plan, nor will coaches or other school faculty members."

Because of the dearth of fact on a proper standard of payment, the W. I. A. A. would pay benefits only in

Fishing Is At Worst During Dog-Day Season

BY E. A. CLAFLIN

Immediately we speak of a fishing trip or a vacation in the north country we associate it with the hot dog days of summer—the "dog days" with their excessive heat and humidity, their flies and bugs—in fact everything that tends to torture and try the very limit of patience of anyone. And that is the time when the fishing is at its worst.

Personally, I make many trips during those days but they are made in line with my business as well as for pleasure. Yes, pleasure. I do get it even during those trying dog days. But perhaps I may go a bit better equipped than the average camper; and perhaps, too, many years of experience in the silent the following cases during the first year of trial.

Entire sight of one eye, if irrevocably lost, $200.

Both arms broken above the elbows, $150.

Both legs broken above the knees, $150.

Both bones of either arm broken between wrist and elbow, $100.

Both bones of either leg broken between ankle and knee, $100.

Either leg broken above knee, $100.

Either arm broken above elbow, $75.

Either bone of either leg broken between ankle and knee, $50.

Either bone of either arm broken between wrist and elbow, $50.

Collar bone broken, $40.

Under present plans, money from the treasury will be used to pay benefits, but the board does not promise to continue the practice without assessment. It says it is dependent upon the information gathered during the year of trial. The W. I. A. A. now has more than $10,000 in its treasury.

Members of the board were F. V. Powell, Platteville, chairman; G. A. Chamberlain, Milwaukee; V. G. Barnes, Madison; P. F. Neversman, Marinette and N. J. Williams, Neenah.

places may have taught me how to make of such a trip a time of real pleasure, rather than one of discomfort.

However, be that as it may, the best time of the year for such an outing is from right now on through October. I am going the latter part of this month up into the country of God about Mercer. I am going to join Bob Peterson and his party on Big Fisher lake. It is true that Bob has a nice little cabin on that fine body of water but, had he not, one of my tents would serve us nearly as well.

We will cast for muskies, that fresh water tiger that knows not the word quit. He will be voracious at that time of the year. And we will get him, if I am to judge from past season results. And then we will float down the Turtle river which joins Big Fisher lake with many others to form a chain of prolific waters, one of the very best in the whole wonderful north country.

There are muskies in the Turtle, too; and big, golden wall-eyes; and scrappy bass by the hundreds in the lily beds. And I must not overlook mentioning the vicious northern pike that hold forth along the debris and half-submerged stumps of the river bends. They, too, are hungry and eagerly await the gaudy "plugs"

that will be sent out to entice them into striking.

I stress on the finny denizens of those waters because they are, after all, is said, the real attraction which draws men to forsake the comforts of civilization. And yet there are other features in a fall sojourn northward not to be found at any other time of the year. The tang of the crisp, clear air, so invigorating; the beautiful, many-hued woods that no painter can imitate; and the glorious sunrise that breaks across Big Fisher lake and turns the soft green of its surface into molten gold. You have never seen a real sunrise unless you have been there in September or October. Go, and you will return to its wonders again just as enthusiastic. It is God's offering to a city-tired people.

NEW GOVERNMENT DAM NEARING COMPLETION

Work on the new government dam at Rapid Croche below Kaukauna is expected to be finished within the next week or two, according to federal engineers. The concrete spillways have long been completed and during the past few weeks, sluice gates were installed. Work on the dam was started early last spring.

The spring from which Big Spring, Texas, received its name, has started flowing after being dormant 10 years.

The public is fully informed concerning my Trials and Charges. To all this, I have no apology to make — my conscience is clear of any wrong doing. It is in the light of this truth that I ask your support.

Last minute rumors may come to you saying certain charges against me will prevent me from holding office if elected. Brand these rumors as falsehoods, and believe them not.

My boyhood days were spent on a farm in Manitowoc County, about 17 miles from Appleton. I served in the Spanish American War, and took part in the engagement at Elcaney and San Juan Hill, Santiago to Cuba.

I sincerely solicit your cooperation and support.
